Congress At Last Ready For Action

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Congress reached the halfway mark of its presidential year session today ready at last for action upon important legislation.

Republican leaders have formulated a program for both houses, which, the United Press learned, will guarantee action upon pending legislative issues in the following order—alien property settlement, Muscle Shoals, farm relief, flood control and tax reduction.

The Republican steering committee has decided upon this sequence and has the general approval of house leaders, who have signified their intention to conform to it as far as possible.

Alien property and Muscle Shoals will be cleared away quickly to get at the real business of the session under this arrangement. A final vote is expected in the senate this afternoon on the revised house bill for settlement of war claims between Germany and the United States.

GOV. JACKSON ACQUITTED OF BRIBE CHARGE

Court Upholds Motion of Defense for Directed Verdict

BY WILLIAM E. HALLBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 17.—Gov. Ed Jackson stood acquitted today on a charge of conspiring to bribe former Gov. Warren T. McCray.

Judge Charles McCabe upheld late yesterday a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal, presented after the state had rested its case.

The motion was based on the defense's contention that the state had failed to prove Governor Jackson acted to conceal the alleged crime and therefore, under the statute of limitations, he was not guilty.

Limitations Statute Applied

The statute of limitations, which the court ruled applied in Governor Jackson's trial, outlaws a crime more than two years old, unless it is proved the defendant attempted concealment.

Judge McCabe's opinion contained a denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan, allegd to have played a leading part in the political intrigue which resulted in Jack-

WOMAN JUMPS SIX FLOORS TO DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Despondent as the result of ill health, Mrs. Mary K. Lewis, wife of a New York diamond broker, leaped from a sixth foor window of the Biltmore hotel today, suffering fatal injuries.

She was removed to an emergency hospital, where she died from a skull fracture, internal injuries and broken bones. A scrawled note, written by Mrs. Lewis, was turned over to police. It read:

"Please take care of mother." The balance of the note was illegible.

Harry A. Lewis, husband of the woman, told investigating officers his wife had undergone a series of operations recently.

S. A. FLYERS' HOP AGAIN IS DELAYED

IMPERIAL COUNTY AIRPORT, Calif., Feb. 17.—Engine trouble today delayed the start of the second attempt of Alvin K. Peterson and Charles F. Rochville to break the world's endurance flight record in their Zenith Albatross plane.

They indicated that they hoped to take off tomorrow.

Siddons Drops Count Against Burns Sleuth

Motion Made for Dismissal Of Detective Chieftain; Both Sides Rest

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Charles L. Veitsch, Baltimore Burns detective agency manager, was freed of contempt of court charges today in the Sinclair Burns jury shadowing case.

Justice F. L. Siddons dismissed the charge against Veitsch on a separate defense motion. This action left only four defendants, Harry F. Sinclair, oil multi-millionaire; Henry Mason Day, his assistant, and W. J. and W. Sherman Burns, of the famous detective agency which provided the jury shadowers.

A separate motion for dismissal of W. J. Burns was next taken up by the court, both defense and government having rested this forenoon.

Justice Siddons ruled that the evidence had not shown "beyond a reasonable doubt" that Veitsch had any part in the shadowing of Fall-Sinclair jurors by Burns detectives employed by Sinclair.

Veitsch's connection with the shadowing was that he brought to Washington from Baltimore $1500 to pay the detectives' expense. He also held one conference relative to furnishing Baltimore Burns men to aid in the shadowing.

The government opposed the motion to dismiss, Assistant U. S. Attorney Burkinshaw asserting Veitsch was involved in the shadowing "up to his neck."

Defense And U. S. Start Summing Up Arguments

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The defense and government rested in the Sinclair-Burns contempt case today. Summing up arguments were started.

The defense concluded its testimony without putting Harry F. Sinclair, multimillionaire defendant, on the stand.

The contempt of court citation resulted from Sinclair's employment of Burns detectives to shadow Fall-Sinclair jurors.

STATE G. O. P. WILL HAVE 29 DELEGATES

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—The state of California will elect 29 delegates to the Republican national convention at the presidential primary, May 1.

This announcement was made here today by Deputy Secretary of State Charles J. Hagerty, upon receipt of information from Charles L. Neumiller, of Stockton, chairman of the Republican state central committee.

The Republican party is the first party in this state to inform the secretary of state of the number of delegates it will elect, according to the state presidential primary law.

The last date upon which parties may file such information is March 1, Hagerty said.

Deadlocked Jury In Hill Murder Trial Dismissed

OTTAWA, Ill., Feb. 17.—The jury deliberating the case of Harry A. Hill, alleged matricide, was dismissed today by Judge J. A. Davis when its members were unable to reach a verdict after nearly 60 hours' deliberation.

Judge Davis called the jury into court at 11:10 a. m., and asked H. D. Walker, foreman, if they had been unable to reach a verdict. Weeks said they were hopelessly deadlocked.

Hill, 21-year-old former Knox student, was charged with murdering his wealthy mother, Mrs. Eliza Hill, last August.

U. S. INDORSEMENT OF WAR OUTLAWRY OUTSTANDING ACT OF PAN AMERICANISM

By HARRY W. FRANTZ
United Press Staff Correspondent

HAVANA, Feb. 17.—The Mexican proposal for the outlawry of aggressive warfare, coupled with the sincere indorsement of Charles Evans Hughes, of the United States, today loomed as one of the outstanding developments of the Pan American conference.

The proposal originally was introduced before the public international law committee by Dr. Gonzales Roa, with full consent of the Mexican delegation, because the Mexicans felt there had been too frequent references to warfare in the Americas.

The proposal gained great momentum when Hughes, former secretary of state of the United States, in a brilliant speech, indorsed the proposition and gave two concrete suggestions as to the practical working out of such a proposal.

In pledging support to the proposal against aggression, Hughes said:

"I wish to join with you in this effort to the full extent of my ability. If we cannot complete it now let us prepare for a future day when we can accomplish our purposes with full consideration of all the questions which necessarily arise.

"I desire to show to you the sincere co-operation of the United States, which is opposed to any act of aggression; which desires to see force eliminated from this hemisphere; which is seeking

O. C. Price's Oranges Are Best at San Bernardino's National Show

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Feb. 17.—O. C. Price, of Etawanda, is the champion orange grower of the world, it was decided at the San Bernardino National Orange show today.

Price was presented with a diamond medal by Gov. C. C. Young, who congratulated the winner. The presentation was one of the highlights of the day's program.

The box of Washington navels entered by Price were adjudged the best in that class and were sent to President Coolidge.

Harry Weldon, of Lindsay, took second place, the judges spending more than an hour over the fruit entered by Weldon and Price before deciding the winner.

Weldon's oranges were sent to Colonel Lindbergh.

The judges were A. W. Swain, of Whittier, A. H. Johnston, of Anaheim, and W. G. Fields, of San Dimas.

Residents of Highland, Yucaipa, Redlands and East San Bernardino were guests of the show today. Pioneers who migrated to California as far back as the 76's entertained them with old time songs and dances.

Governor Young opened the show last night. After several others had made short talks, the

Leviathan Grounds But Frees Self

(By United Press)
BULLETIN

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Officials of the United States line, after communicating with Southampton tonight, denied that the liner had grounded, as reported.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—An unconfirmed Exchange Telegraph dispatch revealed today that the U. S. liner Leviathan, on her way to Southampton from New York, went aground near Calshot Head, in Southampton water, but later was refloated.

The exchange reported that at first four tugs were called to the Leviathan's assistance, but that before their arrival the ship backed afloat under her own power and probably would be able to proceed to Southampton.

PRICES CRASH ON NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Prices on the New York stock exchange broke badly today under the heaviest selling for months. Heavy selling started as today's session progressed and carried values down from two to 16 1-2 points.

There was little in the news to account for the abrupt about face of the market other than belated recognition of the fact that the federal reserve authorities are attempting to curb stock speculation.

Largest losses for the day were made by Midland Steel products preferred at 212 1-4, off 16 1-2 points, and Grene Cananea copper at 118 1-4, off 14 1-4 points.

SPREAD POLICE DRAGNET FOR TWO SLAYERS

Prisoners Seen Once Since Escape; Auto Found In Decatur, Ill.

(By United Press)

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 17.—A manhunt, rivaling the search for Marty Durkin, Chicago's notorious "sheik bandit," spread over the middle west today for two escaped convicts sought in connection with the murder of two deputy sheriffs.

The bodies of the officers, Walter McClure and John M. Grove, were found yesterday on a farm near Covington, Ind.

The bodies were covered with a laprobe, which had been in the automobile Grove and McClure were using in transferring the two prisoners to the state reformatory in Pendleton.

The officers left here February 7 with their prisoners, Samuel Baxter and John Burns. On the next day the prisoners were seen in Danville, Ill., and two days later the automobile, its windshield shattered by bullets was found in Decatur, Ill.

The bodies were discovered by Charles Abdill, farmer, who was searching for a lost cow.

Examination, Coroner Harry Stewart said, was difficult because of the decomposed condition of the bodies. Both man apparently had been killed by blows on their heads.

Acceptable Farm Relief Measure Hope Of Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—President Coolidge is hopeful that congress will attempt to pass an acceptable farm relief measure. He was represented today as feeling that the measure which congress is about to consider varies litle from the bill he vetoed last session.

WOMEN IN QUEST OF RECIPES CONTINUE TO CROWD THEATER

With all standing room taken and women waiting in the lobby and on the sidewalks for a chance to catch even a word from Miss Wilma Campbell, who is conducting The Register cooking school in the Yost Spurgeon theater, yesterday afternoon's program proved even more popular than those of the preceding two days. So eager were Orange county's housewives to learn of new ways to make salads and salad dressings, yesterday's subject for discussion, that many of them gathered in front of the theater at 11 o'clock in order to be sure of a seat.

A short musical program opened the afternoon's session. While awaiting the hour of 1 o'clock, at which time the program officially opened, the large audience was entertained by organ music, presented by Mrs. Ralph Adams.

Miss Thelma Stovall, whose lovely young voice is known in all Santa Ana musical circles, sang two numbers, "The Last Rose of Summer," from the opera, "Martha," and an old English melody, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." She was accompanied by Miss Marie Osborne. Both Miss Stovall and Miss Osborn are students in the Santa Ana junior college.

C. William Booth and Kenneth Price, Orana players, again appeared upon the program. Booth sang "Ida, Sweet as Apple Cider" and "Brady, Why Didn't You Run?" He invoked the mirth of his audience with a clever Nat Wells reading, entitled "The Ragged Hero."

Price gave three numbers, "Hello Swannee, Hello," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and an entertaining arrangement made up of a group of well known songs.

Miss Ruth Rowland, head of the home economics department in Santa Ana polytechnic high school, gave an interesting talk on "Training Home Makers in the High School."

Miss Rowland discussed the various courses given in her department. These courses include sewing, cooking, meal planning and caring for the ill, as well as a general home economics class.

Miss Margaret S. Hannah, head of the home service department for the Southern Counties Gas company, told briefly of the work accomplished in this department. She explained that the department is willing to aid the housewife in any domestic science problem.

SELECTION OF FOX' JURY IS SLOW TASK

By DAN CAMPBELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

COURTROOM, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Selection of a jury to try William Edward Hickman and Welby Hunt for the Toms murder proceeded at an extremely slow pace today.

As the session adjourned for the noon recess, it became more apparent that the actual taking of testimony in the case would not get underway before early next week.

FOLSOM CONVICTS' TRIAL DRAGS ALONG

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—Prospects that the case of the six convicts charged with the murder of Guard Ray Singleton, at Folsom, would go to the jury this week seemed remote today.

A. M. Stewart, the defendant who turned state's evidence, was the target of attacks by J. J. Henderson, counsel for Anthony Brown, alleged ringleader of the sextet, in his closing arguments yesterday. Henderson charged that Neil McAllister, district attorney, had framed the case.

Attorneys for James H. Gregg and Roy E. Stokes also plan to address the jury on behalf of their clients. Ray Coughlin, chief of the defense counsel, will require a whole day in his arguments.

Chicago Gunmen Rob Messenger In Downtown Street

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Three bandits, heavily armed, threw motor traffic into turmoil at a busy downtown intersection and sent hundreds of pedestrians scurrying for cover when they robbed a messenger of the B. A. Railton company of $37,500.

The bandits forced the messenger's car into the curbing and escaped with the money, mostly in checks, in the ensuing chase.

PROPOSITION SUBMITTED TO CONGRESS

Urges Generous Compensation for Transport of Mail on Long Contracts

LOAN SYSTEM NEEDED

Board Claims Suggestions Would Give Nation Rich, Fast, Merchant Marine

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Recommendations for a new merchant marine policy to aid American shipping interests were submitted to congress by the U. S. shipping board today.

The shipping board called for "reaffirmation, as provided in the Jones bill, of the national policy to establish and maintain a permanent merchant marine."

Generous compensation for the transport of foreign mails under long term contracts and a liberalization under which American shipbuilders and operators may borrow money from the government were urged by the board.

Other proposals included:

Federal Tax Exemption

Federal tax exemption on American vessels operating in foreign trade; transfer to privately owned American vessels of the business now handled by army and navy transports and by the vessels owned and chartered by the Panama Railroad Steamship line; amendment of the merchant marine act to provide for creation of a naval reserve so as to authorize two months' pay to officers and men of the merchant marine naval reserve employed on vessels of the merchant marine in foreign trade; establishment of an insurance system to place American vessels on an equality with foreign vessels in this respect.

Outgrowth of Conference

The proposals were the outgrowth of a recent conference here of leading shipping men, who adopted resolutions asking congress to pass the Wood and Copeland shipping bills.

No single one of the bills now in congress, the board said, provides all the legislation necessary to meet present requirements, and a combination of the best features of all was suggested.

The board said its proposals would "give the country within a reasonable time a permanent and prosperous merchant marine made up of fast modern ships under private ownership, capable of transporting the greater portion of our foreign commerce and serving as a powerful naval auxiliary in time of war."

Most leading ship men are in harmony with the board's recommendations, the report said.

WIDOW OF ACTOR IN STATE OF COLLAPSE

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Eddie Foy, widow of the famous comedian who died in Kansas City yesterday, was in a state of collapse when she arrived here today accompanying Foy's body.

She was taken in an ambulance from the Dearborn street station, where the Kansas City train arrived, to the union station, where the funeral party was to leave early in the afternoon for New York. Seven sons and daughters of Foy joined the funeral party here.

59 Rebels Slain By Mexican Federal Troops

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17.—Fifty-nine rebels have been killed during the last few days in what appeared to be a winning governmental campaign over a wide area, mostly in Jalisco state, Quadalajara dispatches said today.

Twelve rebels were killed near Mataero. Federal troops reported that they killed 25 rebels and captured and executed seven of a force that was preparing to attack the town of Cimatlan in Nayarit state.

COOKING CLASS DOESN'T LOSE ITS POPULARITY

Miss Campbell then took charge of the program and, in her charming and efficient manner, went about explaining to her interested audience how to make salads, salad dressings and a delectable cheese tart to be served with salad.

Salad dressings, stirred up in a moment's time, were made by Miss Campbell, who obligingly answered all questions asked by the interested women. The mysteries of both macaroni and tuna salad were explained. A number of new combinations for salads also were pointed out.

An interesting phase of Miss Campbell's lecture had to do with the oven dinner "which makes it possible," she said, "for every mother to attend church and come home to find dinner ready to be served. A roast, carrots, scalloped noodles and rice pudding all were included in the oven dinner.

After placing the above in the oven they were left for four hours with never a thought from her, Miss Campbell stated.

He cited two proposals to aid such a plan of non-aggression. One was a commission to settle boundary disputes, such as is in effect in the United States and Canada. The other was to decide on the arbitration committee to settle disputes and especially the person who should cast the deciding vote.

Hughes suggested a committee of three prominent jurists, none from the western hemisphere, who would appoint the fourth member.

The proposal against warfare and the subsequent indorsement by Hughes brought great acclaim from the delegates.

ARMY AVIATOR BADLY HURT IN MICHIGAN CRASH

LEVERING, Mich., Feb. 17.—Lt. Hoyt L. Prindle, 23, of Santa Monica, Calif., crashed today when he attempted to take off in an army pursuit plane equipped with skis from a rough snow covered field near here. He was seriously injured.

Prindle was a pilot of the first pursuit corps, U. S. air service, engaged in a good will tour of northern Michigan's snow country. The 12 planes had been twice delayed by the caprice of a winter storm and were attempting to get back on schedule when the crash occurred. His plane was wrecked beyond repair.

Prindle suffered several broken ribs and numerous cuts.

Lt. Joseph C. Hopkins, another pilot of the squadron secured an automobile and started a 20-mile trip with the injured officer through snow blocked roads toward Petoskey, where the nearest hospital is located. Other planes of the squadron flew on to Traverse City, headed by Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier, flight commandant.

Widow Raved At Alleged Slayer, Witness Claims

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—How Mrs. Appleby screamed and raved at Dr. Charles McMillan three days before she was murdered was described by a witness today at the trial of the aged physician.

"I heard Mrs. Appleby scream and order Dr. McMillan to leave the house," H. O. Hendricks, former neighbor of Mrs. Appleby, widow of a wealthy Chicago inventor, testified.

Considerable humor was lent the proceedings by Frank Holland, 82-year-old real estate operator. He described a real estate trip with Dr. McMillan and the woman, who had been introduced as the physician's wife.

'She looked pretty good to me," the aged witness testified, throwing the courtroom into an unroar.

Holland stated he met the doctor the day before his arrest and at that time McMillan told him that their prospective real estate deal could not be carried out since "his wife had gone to Chicago."

L. A. Authorities Refuse Comment On Poison Deaths

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Local postal authorities refused to comment held today on reports that the search for two suspects in the Mercer county, Illinois, poison plot had turned to Southern California.

Although Postal Inspector I. V. Kinney, of Aledo, Ill., was said to be making a search here and in Long Beach, it was denied that he had called upon local postal officials or at the U. S. marshal's office for a warrant.

The suspects, it was said, are wanted in connection with a poison plot that resulted in the deaths of 10 persons in Aledo.

son's indictment.

The judge said:

"I am fully aware of the slime and disgrace brought onto the state by that organization. I have talked of it this way since it first was organized and I still say it.

"There is nothing more revolting than this history of the state and it has resulted in the disgrace of the state of Indiana."

Former Governor on Stand

During the trial five witnesses testified to direct knowledge that the bribe was offered. They were former Governor McCray, D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the K. K. K., now serving a life sentence for murder; William P. Evans, former prosecuting attorney and son-in-law of McCray; Fred Robinson, former state purchasing agent, and James W. Noel, former personal attorney for McCray.

All five testified that Jackson conspired to offer McCray, then governor, $10,000 if he would appoint James E. McDonald to replace Evans, who had resigned rather than prosecute his father-in-law on charges of using the mails to defraud.

Hearing On Navy Program Marked By Recriminations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Recriminations marked today's session of the house naval affairs committee as the "popular lobby" continued its arguments for and against the administration's proposed naval construction program.

Mrs. William Sherman Walker, vice president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, demanded removal of Dr. W. I. Hull from his post as professor of history in Swarthmore college because he refused to tell the committee whether he thought the American colonies were justified in their revolt from England.

MACKAYE BATTLE IS CARRIED TO CAPITAL

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Efforts to stay execution of the prison sentence of Dorothy Mackaye, former stage favorite, were centered in Sacramento today.

Armed with a petition signed by prominent theatrical people, business men and clubwomen, Attorney Roger Marchetti is scheduled to go before Gov. C. C. Young seeking a pardon.

Unless action is taken before the end of the week, Miss Mackaye, convicted of concealing circumstances surrounding the death of her husband, Ray Raymond, will be removed to San Quentin.

Julian Company's Minute Books Are Reported Missing

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Minute books of the Julian Petroleum corporation, vital in the trial of 10 men charged with wrecking the oil company, are missing, it was revealed today at the over-issue trial.

As the prosecution began presenting a new phase of the case to prove a conspiracy, Miss Mildred Murphy, secretary of H. L. Carnahan, Julian receiver, was called to the stand and questioned about the minute books.

"One Saturday afternoon in January," she testified, "S. C. Lewis, former Julian president, came to Mr. Carnahan's office and asked for the books. He said he wanted to work on them over the week end. I haven't seen them since."

According to Deputy District Attorney Richardson, a subpoena was served a week ago on Lewis and Julian corporation, demanding that the books be produced in court.

Lewis declared the boks are at the receiver's office.

Mass Production Used By Ade For Letter Writing

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 17.—Mass production methods have been applied to his personal correspondence by George Ade.

The Hoosier humorist and playwright whose "Fables in Slang" and "Stories of Artie," the small-town wisecracker, have penetrated the most remote crevices of America, has friends in almost as many corners of the country.

His mail is ponderous. And Ade, wishing to keep contact with his hundreds of friends and acquaintances, calls on the mimeograph machine to help him.

His personal impressions of Gene Tunney, the spic and span appearance of Miami Beach and the mainland city on the other side of the causeway, interesting folks he has met this season, his winter activities and his plans for spring come in for consideration in the current issue, which he had headed:

"Florida News Letter from George Ade."

The present heavyweight champion made a favorable impression on the Indiana author.

Since arriving here I have become acquainted with Gene Tunney," Ade writes. "I had a couple of long talks with him and played golf with him and Gene Sarazen and Fred Tod of Youngstown, Ohio. I like Tunney very much. If you met him and didn't know he was the pugilistic champion of the world, you might suspect that he was a member of some learned profession who had attended an eastern college and played football. He is at ease wherever you put him and doesn't have to match his step. His playmate down here has been Dr. William Lyon Phelps of Yale. Imagine an old-time pug hob-nobbing with the head of the English department at Yale!"

BANK BANDIT TRIO AGAIN MAKES HAUL

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—Striking for the second time this week in the vicinity of Sacramento, three armed bandits today held up and robbed the Bank of Elk Grove, escaping with approximately $6000 in currency.

SAYS WEALTHY NOW OWN NICE, FRANCE

NICE, France, Feb. 17.—"This delightful winter resort, the capital of the Cote d'Azur, is inhabitable now only by American millionaires and their staffs of servants," said Jean Perrigault, formerly editor-in-chief of the Petit Nicois, to the correspondent of the United Press. He was commenting on the complaints of the hotel keepers and apartment owners of the bad season of 1926-7 and their fear that there will be repetition of loss without profit this year.

M. Perrigault recounted his own experience when he came to Nice a couple of years ago to take over the direction of the Petit Nicois. He told of his long and futile search for a modest apartment of three rooms and the fabulous prices the proprietors were demanding. In one particularly flagrant case he brought suit only to learn that the judge before whom the case was tried was the owner of the apartment.

"All the same," continued the editor, "the judge was not unreasonable. He told me he wouldn't send me to jail, that I was free and could go. I went—back to Paris. So did most of my compatriots who thought they could make a living in Nice and save some money. That's the reason we French have given up the Riviera.

"Nobody can live here except a millionaire. Several of my friends in the civil service rejoiced when they learned they were transferred to Nice. Their rejoicing didn't last long when they discovered that on a salary of 1800 francs ($75) a month they had to pay $480 a year rent.

"One of these days I expect to see Nice handed over bodily to the wealthy foreigners. There will be no more state employees, no more mail carriers, no more street cleaners, no more tramways. Perhaps the millionaires will attend to those necessary duties themselves."

Divorce Asked

Cruelty and niggardliness with money were cited as traits in the character of John D. Weaver when his wife, Mrs. Eva L. Weaver started divorce action against him today.

Non-support Charged

Earl Stanfield, charged with non-support, admitted today in Superior court that he had given his wife $15 during the last eight months. He has asked probation after pleading guilty, but the matter was continued to March 16.

GIVEN SIX MONTHS FOR CONTRIBUTING

Mary Prescott, 25, smiled today when Superior Judge James L. Allen asked her whether she could make good if he granted probation. She answered in the affirmative.

She had pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl at San Juan Capistrano, whom she is alleged to have enticed from her home in order to go to Los Angeles and have a good time.

Mary Prescott was smiling still when the court declared that probation would be granted. But on the heels of this statement came the blow which was not expected. Deputy district attorney Sam Collins, for the state, had his smile coming.

"I will grant probation, providing you spend six months in the county jail." The smile on Mary Prescott's face was missing after that.

BRIDE KIDNAPED BY REJECTED SUITER

By RANDALL GOULD
United Press Staff Correspondent

MANILA, Feb. 17.—Forced at the pint of a pistol to marry a jilted suitor on the morning of her wedding day, 18-year-old Dorotea Cabrera now sits in a Manila convent and weeps bitterly.

E'ven though they kill me, I will not marry him!" she cries out.

But she has married not Maximiano Concepcion, the youth of her choice and of her parents' choice, but Domingo Casino, who stole her out of her bedroom and carried her off in gallant style worthy of a better cause.

Dorotea is a pretty heiress of San Pablo, Laguna province. Maximiano, the young bridegroom-to-have-been, is a former teacher and supervisor of the bureau of education, and it was only after arduous courtship that he won her consent and the consent of her parents to his suit.

The day was set. Everyone in San Pablo was buzzing with the excitement of the gala affair. Visitors came, and among these visitors was one Domingo Casino, a former suitor.

Never before had he spoken his love; but now he told Dorotea that he did in truth love her despite his silence.

"Bah—you're rather late," she answered derisively.

In silence he turned away and went.

Suddenly Dorotea was awakened by one of her girl companions. In whispers she was told that Domingo was in the room. An instant later she felt the muzzle of a revolver against her side.

"You must follow me!" whispered the voice of Domingo.

As in a trance, Dorotea arose and went out with him—still attired only in her night garb—to a motorcar. It entered the ancient Walled Town in Manila and she was in a room filled with Domingo's friends. She was soon married.

Soon after, searchers for the abducted girl reached the house and snatched her away.

Dorotea's numbed brain did not record the circumstances, and she still insists, in her convent seclusion, that she is but the promised bride of Maximiano. But the marriage to Domingo is a fact.

Maximiano awaits developments, hidden in his native town of Pasig. Domingo, married but no gainer thereby, is hiding.

The Long Beach auditorium will be the mecca for thousands of Orange county and Southern California Shriners tomorrow evening, when Potentate Kenneth H. Gillette of Al Malaikah Temple, accompanied by his official divan, the Shrine band, the chanters and patrol with their colorful uniforms, will pay an official visit to the Long Beach Shrine club.

Pointing out that Potentate Gillette and his official divan and uniformed organizations have programmed visits to the various Shrine clubs in the Southland, Joseph P. Smith, Orange county representative of the potentate and secretary of the Orange County Shrine club, today stated that Gillette would visit the club here at some future date. Smith received notice Thursday that he had been appointed county representative of the potentate.

"The visit to the Long Beach club tomorrow night will be a red letter day in the lives of Shriners in Southern California and a record crowd will be prepared for," Smith said.

"The various Shrine clubs in Long Beach, Wilmington, San Pedro, Huntington Park, Hermosa, Compton, Bell, Anaheim, Avalon, Whittier, Torrance, Santa Fe Springs, Redondo Beach, Newport Beach, Manhattan Beach, Fullerton, Santa Ana and Orange are planning to attend.

"The evening generally will be given over to merriment and good fellowship with any ideas of oratory reduced to the minimum."

PLEADS GUILTY ON ROBBERY CHARGES

R. L. Lile, 31, Anaheim automobile salesman, pleaded not guilty today to a charge of selling liquor when he was arraigned before Superior Judge E. J. Marks after an information had been filed against him by Deputy District Attorney Sam Collins.

Lile was one of those arrested recently in a county wide booze cleanup launched by District Attorney Z. B. West jr., and Sheriff Sam Jernigan. His trial was set for March 12.

John Pike, Los Angeles, was scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Homer G. Ames to answer to an information in which he is charged with the same offense. He failed to appear and the matter was postponed till later in the day.

Vincent Nieblas, Santa Ana, was before Judge Ames and Collins presented an accusation of selling booze. Morris Cain, representing Nieblas, asked that time for answering be continued till next Friday. The request was granted. Pike and Nieblas also were victims of the liquor roundup staged by West and Jernigan.

Two DETROITS would fit into "DUNLOP CITY"

Throughout the world the productive Dunlop properties cover so vast an area that—if combined into one place—they would form a "Dunlop City" of over 100,000 acres.

BEFORE Detroit started to make motor-cars, Dunlop had founded the pneumatic tire industry.

Thanks to the automobile, both Detroit and "Dunlop City" have grown tremendously.

Now Detroit reaches out over 52,686 acres, while "Dunlop City" covers over 100,000 acres.

And even greater than the size of "Dunlop City," is Dunlop's world-wide reputation for building uniformly supreme Dunlop Tires.

Supreme quality made possible Dunlop's great size. In turn, Dunlop's great size makes possible this same supreme quality, at lower prices.

You can expect more of Dunlops.

DR. VERN BISHOP TO OPEN STORE IN S. A.

It has been with warm interest that friends of Dr. and Mrs. Vern Bishop have welcomed them back to Santa Ana's social and business life after an interval during which they have divided their time between the Imperial Valley and Glendora, on the Foothill boulevard.

During their years of residence in this city, Dr. Bishop was a partner in the Smith and Bishop Jewelry store, and the partnership continued through nine years in the Imperial valley, but returning now to Santa Ana to make their home, the Bishops will open a new jewelry store at 815 North Main street, where Dr. Bishop will be in charge of the optometry department, and Mrs. Bishop will be associated with him in business.

They plan to carry in addition to the usual line of table silver, watches, diamonds and kindred articles, a line of imported novelties suitable for inexpensive bridge prizes, feeling that this will be a much appreciated feature here in a bridge playing community. Costume jewelry, so popular at the moment, will also be given prominence in their counter displays. The formal opening of the new store will be held Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Bishop and their young daughter, Miss Virginia Bishop are pleasantly established at 1904 Bush street. They are members of the Episcopal congregation, and like all their associates in the church, are regretting the departure of the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. H. Benton.

LOCAL BAND TO PLAY AT BEACH TWO SUNDAYS

By RUTH ANDREWS

Of special interest to music lovers of Orange county will be the concert programs to be presented in Long Beach Sunday afternoon, February 19 and February 26, by the Santa Ana Municipal band, under direction of D. C. Cianfoni. The Santa Ana band will replace the Long Beach band, which is playing at the Orange show at San Bernardino. Both concerts will be broadcast over KFON and KGER.

An exceptionally brilliant and well-chosen program, featuring soloists of nation-wide repute, whom the Santa Ana band numbers among its personnel, is announced by Director Cianfoni for February 19, as follows:

Triumphal March, "Rome," (D. C. Cianfoni); overture, "Barber of Seville," (Rossini); reverie, "Echoes from the Cathedral," (D. C Cianfoni); sextette from opera "Lucia de Lammermour," (Donizetti); selection from Cavalleria Rusticana," (Mascagni); vocal solo, "Barcarolle" from "La Giorconda," (Ponchielli), Robert Bradford, baritone; Valse des Fleurs, from "Nutcracker Suite," (Tschaikowsky); cornet solo, "Inflammatus" from "Stabat Mater," (G. Rossini), Gemaro D'Amico; selection from "Il Trovatore," (G. Verdi); grand selection from "Carmen," (Bizet).

The Santa Ana band anticipates presentation of these concert programs of February 19 and 26 with much pleasure, feeling that friendly bonds of civic co-operation will thus be strengthened between communities of the southland.

ACRAMENTO, Feb. 17—What ou think of the crime situation California? Have you any dy to suggest?

you have, send it in to the ifornia Crime Commission, says A. Johnston, chairman of commission appointed by Gov. Young, to make a thorough ysis of crime in California.

he commission is today re- ing opinions and listening to ries about the lawlessness in ifornia from persons in all ks of life, Johnston said.

We want to hear from Califor- citizens of all types and oc- ations, a sort of symposium of icism and suggestions, in order we may gather data of every . The more heads the better," ston said.

Regular Meetings

e Crime Commission is hold- meetings regularly at which views of every Californian are ne, Johnston said. When- a practical suggestion or ism is received, it is given rough scrutiny by the com- on. Many invaluable "paint- have been received in this ner.

ur purpose now is to uncover detect the basic cause for the alency of crime. We are delv- into its prevention and cure, well as its enforcement and shment. We want to get at the of the matter. We are not to be content with super- lities.

Discoveries Made

me startling discoveries have been made already, according to Johnston. These discoveries will take the form of bills which will be presented to the 1929 legislature, with the approval and sanction of Governor Young.

"The crime situation in California is such a complicated thing that we are feeling our way slowly—but surely, we hope. There are so many angles to it, so many problems that must be treated, so many subjects to be discussed, that we cannot jump hastily.

"We are apt to overlook some vital feature of the question. It is for this reason that we want the judgment of every one interested," Johnston said.

AUXILIARY OF LEGION MEETS STATE LEADER

In the presence of their department president, Mrs. Ethel M. Hearst, Los Angeles, and other prominent state executives, the American Legion Auxiliary of Santa Ana, last night closed its annual membership drive and held services initiating 38 new members into the unit.

More than 200 women attended the meeting of the auxiliary at the Legion home on Birch street. These included Mrs. Ann Chapline, Orange, past state president; Mrs. Una Early, grand chapeau of the Eight and Forty, Los Angeles; Mrs. Bernice Keys, state chairman of community service, San Diego; and several other committee women, and chairmen of state committees.

The initiation was for the largest number of new members brought into the unit in the past several years and the Santa Ana unit was highly praised by the state officers for the enthusiasm shown in the local organization.

Dinner Meeting

The meeting last night started with a dinner prepared by the famous cooks of the auxiliary and was served by members of the Santa Ana post bugle and drum corps, which also gave their services as musicians. Orchestra music was played during the dinner by the West Coast-Walker orchestra, through the courtesy of the management.

Several of the leading Legionnaires of the city also were present at the meeting as honored guests and all called on for short talks. These included, Charles Van Wyk, commander of Santa Ana post, William Murphy, commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War here; Joe Plank, chef de gare of the California Forty and Eight society, and Loyal King.

Some of the visiting women present were: Mrs. Sarah Nash, southern district chairman of membership, Pasadena, who declared that last night's services were the second largest she had attended since she took over the membership work; Mrs. Laura Jackson, southern district chairman, hospitalization, Los Angeles; Mrs. Alesworth, Ninth district committee woman; Mrs. Grace Pond, Eleventh district chairman, membership, Ontario; Mrs. F. Atwood, Eleventh district chairman, hospitalization; Upland; Mrs. Florence Smith, Eleventh district chairman, Americanization, Anaheim; Mrs. A. P. Nelson, state chairman of cooperation with War Veterans for the Federated Women's Clubs, Santa Ana; Mrs. Julia Saunby, Second President, auxiliary, Hollywood; Miss Louise Tubbs, third president, auxiliary, Tustin; Mrs. Gertrude Whitney, fourth president, auxiliary, San Bernardino.

Hospitalization

Mrs. Hearst's talk to the auxiliary pertained to the work being accomplished by the auxiliary throughout the state and called attention to the needs of hospitalization for women veterans of the war as well as the disabled veterans for whom the auxiliary has worked faithfully for many years.

She declared there were only 227 beds in the United States for women veterans, while there were 52,000 such veterans. Mrs. Hearst urged that the Santa Ana auxiliary pass a resolution calling attention to this fact and that a copy of the resolution be sent to Congressman Phil Swing.

All poppies made this year for the annual sale of the little red flowers on "Poppy Day," will be made by disabled veterans this year, Mrs. Hearst announced. Heretofore, the auxiliary and other agencies have aided the disabled men in manufacturing the flowers, it was said. The proceeds of these sales go direct to the welfare of the disabled veterans.

The new members taken into the Santa Ana unit last night were: Mesdames, Adelaide Cochran Mabel Hannaford, Lottie Brookbank, Kenneth Brown, Vera Trawick, Rose Edwards, Beryl B. Horton, Marie Voss Kuhler, Mary Gold, Ray Beattie, Ida Bales, Bernice Perryman, Gretchen Kellogg, Bernice M. Knight, Irene Watters, Ida F. 10-YEAR OLD BOY TO PLAY AT CHURCH

Raimundo Marquez jr., 10-year-old pianist, will be at the First Methodist Church, Sixth and Spurgeon streets on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, and give several selections in recital during the evening services. This Mexican boy is spoken of as a musical wonder. He is not just a clever child musician but his personality suggests a hidden power. He will be assisted by his sister, Maria Marquez, aged three, in a group of songs. These children have been taught and coached by their father. Musical critics agree that the future holds much for this Marquez family. Among the selections which Raimundo will play on Sunday evening are Minuet by Paderewski, Vals, Op. 64 by Fr. Chopin and Prelude, Op. 3, No. 2 by Rachmaninoff. A silver offering will be taken, the proceeds to go to the musical education of Raimundo.

Story Hour At Public Library

An especially interesting program has been arranged by Miss Mary Bowyer, head of the children's department at the Santa Ana city library, for Saturday morning's 10:30 o'clock story hour. Ann children under eight years of age are invited to this story hour as children over eight enjoyed a program prepared for them last Saturday.

Such fascinating tales as "The Wee, Wee, Minnie and the Big, Big Coo," an old Scotch story, Riley's "A Bear Story," and "The Twins and Tabirra," will be told by Miss Bowyer.

A poem, "The Moo-Cow-Moo," will also be given. Miss Bowyer has announced that a surprise centering around the poem will take place.

The "something-to-make-or-do" will also be a surprise, she stated.

GIVEN TWO YEARS IN INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Perhaps Carlton L. Andrews, 20, might not be ging to the Preston School of Industry at Ione, if he had not stopped his career in public school before he had graduated.

Superior Judge Homer G. Ames pointed out today that he could send the youth to San Quentin for passing 30 fictitious checks within a month. He granted probation, however, and told young Andrews that he had made a mistake in quitting school. Pronouncement of judgment was suspended for two years.

"You will have an opportunity there to learn almost any trade you wish," the court explained. "I could send you to San Quentin, but this is the first offense and I'm afraid if you went up there the chances of becoming a real criminal would be greateer."

Andrews lived south of Atwood and, although he has not been involved with the law before, the court pointed out that when he did start, he went with a rush. He declared that he thought the youth needed something to occupy his mind and advised him to use his opportunities when he gets to Ione.

MUSICAL PROGRAM PLANNED BY Y. W.

A musical program will be presented Tuesday at the 12:15 o'clock luncheon being planned for the women's gym classes of the Y. W. C. A., according to an announcement made today by Miss Nancy Elder, Y. W. C. A. secretary. The dinner is to be held in the Y. M. C. A. dining room.

The committee in charge of various arrangements for the dinner includes Mrs. Effie Allen, Mrs. Marshall Keeler, Mrs. Clara Walton, Mrs. Henry Wagner, Mrs. H. G. Gardner, and Mrs. Esther Granis. Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. Granis are preparing the program.

Anyone wishing to make reservations for the dinner is asked to phone either Miss Elder or Miss Helen McPeak at 2081.

[illegible] TUNNEL UNDER HUDSON RIVER SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The Holland vehicular tunnel under the Hudson river between New York City and New Jersey has been in use for nearly three months, and has given the engineers an opportunity to check up on the problems involved in the operation of [illegible] given over to automobile traffic. The tunnel is the world's longest of its kind, measuring 9250 feet from the portal in down town New York to the Jersey City opening. It cost $48,000,000 to construct.

The tunnel comprises two tubes, each about 30 feet in diameter. It has a capacity of 46,000 vehicles in 24 hours.

To carry so great a number of automobiles through tubes running deep below the bed of a great river and nearly two miles long, [illegible] presents three principal problems — ventilation, [illegible] and traffic regulation. The most formidable of these was ventilation. The engineers went into elaborate experiments, aided by the United States bureau of mines, before the ventilating system was decided on. It was determined that at the peak hours nearly 4,0000,000 cubic feet of air a minute would be needed. The engineers problem included not only the delivery of this amount of air into the tunnel but making the system proof against every conceivable kind of accident and emergency.

The result was the development of a [illegible] system which will probably serve as the model for vehicular tunnel ventilation in all bores of any magnitude hereafter. It has been adopted for the Oakland estuary tube.

Heretofore, the method of ventilating tunnels has been to drive the air in at one end and out at the other. This did not seem adequate for a tunnel crowded with automobiles with their engines running. It was desirable to feed every part of the tunnel with fresh air at the same time. To do this a great air conduit is run under the floor of the tunnel. From this, lateral flues are run every 10 or 15 feet to a continuous expansion chamber against the right wall of each tube and from this chamber the fresh air is fed into the tube through a narrow continuous slit. The vitiated air is drawn off through openings in the dome of the tube and carried to the terminals through an exhaust conduit.

To drive the air into the tube and pump it out through the exhaust there are four ventilating buildings, one near each of the terminals and one at the pier line on either side of the river. Six thousand horsepower is developed in the power plant, and eighty-four fans are in the equipment. The system is capable of developing 50 per cent more air than the highest estimate of the tunnel's needs.

The thoroughness of the ventilating system is in keeping with the manner in which all the details of the tunnel operation have been worked out. Traffic is regulated by signals every 240 feet and a policeman every 480 feet. Electric signs that flash "Stop all motors" can be switched on from any traffic station. Once on the signs cannot be turned off except from a central office that checks up on every station before the signal is given.

Traffic goes one way in one tube and in the opposite direction in the other. It moves in two lanes in each tube, with room for a third lane for emergencies. At each end of either tube there is a relief truck on signal. The trucks are double-headers, running with the same facility in either direction. They can be used to tow out brokendown cars through the third lane, to rush chemical extinguishers in case of fire or for other emergencies.

Fire protection is important, and is given by a single extinguisher every 125 feet and a battery of five extinguishers every 240 feet. These are supplemented by the truck service.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazard returned home the same day while Mrs. Deacons will remain for several days and during her absence, Ted Hazard, who makes his home with Mrs. Deacons, is remaining at his father's home.

Mrs. O. B. Byram received a letter Monday from Kangkie, Korea, from her daughter-in-law, Dr. Bertha Byram, telling of a new epidemic, all seven of the American children in the station contracting it, their own two small daughters among them. All were very ill for a time but were out of danger when the letter was written.

Leonard Allen, of the U. S. S. Idaho, and his brother, Vernon Allen, of Long Beach, are house guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McKenzie. Leonard Allen is on a 10-day leave of absence from his ship on account of the serious illness of his mother, who underwent an operation of a serious nature at St. Mary's hospital at Long Beach, and Vernon Allen is staying at the McKenzie home and attending school here.

Mrs. Ed Hensley and daughter, Ilamae Hensley, spent Saturday at Long Beach.

The valuable white police dog belonging to John McKenzie jr. was taken to a veterinary Wednesday. A piece of glass an inch and a half long was extracted from the ball of the dog's foot.

A Column of News and Views of Santa Ana People Conducted by Mair Hardware

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE

A prize of One Dollar's worth of merchandise to the first one bringing us the answer to the following riddle.

"A cow, a duck, a frog, and a skunk wanted to go to the circus. It cost $1.00 each. How many of them could go and how did they get the money."

No old rakes in this store—their teeth are in to stay.

We have discovered an excellent and absolutely certain way of saving gas and electric light bills. We paste them in a scrap-book.

A poor knife is always dull. We have a full line of Russell's Stainless Steel Kitchen knives that will hold an edge, and are fully guaranteed.

Two things we would like to see, "the nigger in the woodpile" or "the pig in the poke."

The Cooking School at the Yost Spurgeon theater is drawing big crowds of women and creating a demand for Taylor's Thermometers and Dough Blenders. We have them.

Bob may be careless about his nails and hair, but otherwise he doesn't suffer from want of trimming.

These cold, changeable winds make one think they were back in Iowa or South Dakota these last few days.

Everything else about the auto may stop, but the payments go on.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

MANCHURIA MECCA FOR MANY KOREANS

TOKIO, Feb. 17.—The increasing emigration of Koreans across the northern border into North and South Manchuria is being seriously discussed by the press of Japan. It is estimated that roughly about 80,000 Koreans emigrate to Manchuria and to Japan, largely because of the difficulty of making a living in their own land. Into Japan it is estimated that about 40,000 come every year and it is said they would never think of coming into a country where different manners and customs prevail if they could earn a living at home.

The Korean population at the end of 1924 stood at 17,600,000 and it is estimated that there is a yearly increase of about 250,000. It is a moot question whether the economic development of Korea is in keeping with this growing population.

Statistics of the government general of Korea show that the peninsula has made remarkable economic progress, but it is open to doubt whether the Koreans themselves have profited much by this development.

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules
Keep You Healthy

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation. It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

ONDON ISSUES TRAFFIC FIGURES

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Contrary to general belief Piccadilly Circus is not the busiest corner in London according to a recent survey. The greatest center of traffic, both pedestrian and vehicular, is Hyde Park corner, states the most recent volume of "London Statistics."

During a single day, 55,4441 vehicles passed Hyde Park corner, with Trafalgar Square and Marble Arch coming next on the list, Piccadilly Circus was fourth with 39,476 vehicles.

Among other interesting stitistics disclosed in the new report are the number of miles of streets and telephone wires. There are 2221 miles of the former and 1,969,594 miles of the latter. Telephone calls to the number of 516,229,000 are made every year.

One of the most astonishing bits of information is to the effect that there are 10,000 unpaid officials helping to administer the local government of London, despite which, the expenditures for administration, amounts to more than $275,000,000 annually. London's net debt on March 31, 1925, was approximately $625,000,000.

C. I. F. MAY NOT BREAK UP PREP LEAGUE

SPORTSMATTER

BY FRANK GETTY
UNITED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Tex Rickard is quite serious about wanting to take Gene Tunney to London for a heavyweight championship fight this year.

The final decision now rests entirely upon the matter of money, with odds against the proposition.

When Tex tells us that he has "received a tremendous offer for a Tunney fight abroad," he does not add that the promised quids, bobs and clackers have been deposited in the Bank of England to guarantee payment.

With all due deference to the feelings of our British friends, it must be admitted that in the past—in the past, mind you—Americans who took fighters abroad have had to whistle for their promised fees. And some still are whistling, although their fighters are grandfathers.

Those who propose to back a Tunney fight in London cannot be blamed for this. But neither can the disappointed American managers.

If Tex Rickard goes to London, he may find his counterpart there in genial, soft-spoken Jeff Dickson from New Orleans, who put the boxing industry on its feet in France and now has been invited to try his hand at a similar venture in England.

A soldier of fortune, with a more colorful, if less well advertised, career than that of Rickard himself, Dickson has wandered to out of the way corners of the world, fought in every war he could find, shot lions in Africa and the other gind with a movie camera in Hollywood, and now at 35 has blossomed out as the fight promoter of France.

Jeff went to Paris to settle down in the automobile bumper industry and was led astray by the bumper cauliflower crop, which, he observed, was badly in need of weeding. He made his gardening pay.

Today, every boxing ring in Paris is leased by Dickson, all the topnotch boxers have given him options on their services, and fight fans demand only those bouts which the drawling southerner promotes.

Competition, at first severe, has been driven out by the expedient of giving the fans a run—or rather a fight—for their money. When Jeff thought the boys might not be going to try, he called off the bout.

Once, recently, Jeff spent 12,000 francs, which would at least buy a ringside seat at one of Mr. Rickard's shows in arranging a boxing card. At the last minute, he found out that Alf Ross, one of the principals in the main bout, was in poor condition.. Dickson took his loss and called off the show. The fans now swear by him.

Tex Rickard took a party of boxing writers in a special car to St. Louis a year ago to see him sign Gene Tunney. Jeff Dickson, when he went to England to sign Johnny Cuthbert to box Andre Routis, took a party of French sports writers from Paris to Sheffield by airplane.

And when they were flying over the English Channel, he had lunch served by uniformed attendants.

HUDKINS FACES BAKER IN N. Y. BOUT TONIGHT

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—Ace Hudkins, the wildcat of the west, tonight in Madison Square Garden will attempt to claw his way past Sergeant Sammy Baker, the Army aviator, and on to a title bout with the welterweight champion, Joe Dundee.

The odds of 8 to 5 on Hudkins dropped today when it became known that he had difficulty in making the 147-pound weight limit. The Nebraskan had to take off almost two pounds in the last few hours.

If Hudkins has his strength tonight he is the logical favorite to win. But he may not have enough stamina to fight through 10 rounds at top notch speed.

Baker had no difficulty in making the weight and apparently was in splendid physical shape. Left completely out of Rickard's plans for the next welterweight championship bout, the little aviator has

SEASON RECORD FAVORS SAINTS OVER ALHAMBRA

Two teams of Santa Ana high school basketball players will go to Alhambra this evening to complete the annual three-game league series with the Moors, begun here yesterday when the Saint "Bees" vanquished the 130-pounders from the other Coast Preparatory league city.

Other conference skirmishes sent the undefeated Long Beach five to Pasadena where the Jackrabbits have never yet won a basketball game; Glendale to Whittier, and South Pasadena to San Diego.

Both Coach Bill Foote and Coach Clyde Cook, of the Saint varsity and "Cees," respectively, will take along almost every available player. Both local teams were favored by comparative scores but hard games were expected.

This week's games will be the next to last of the season for the A's and C's. The B's have a good chance of entering the Southern California titular playoffs.

San Diego comes to Santa Ana next Saturday for concluding con-

Oliver Picks Relay Carnival Team

FULL SQUAD OF S. A. ATHLETES TO SEE ACTION

Captain John Moffat Will Stack Up Against Field In 120-Yard High Sticks

Five teams will wear the spangles of Santa Ana high school in the Orange Show Relay Carnival at San Bernardino tomorrow afternoon, a series of races that annually fires the gun for the track and field season in Southern California.

John Moffat, captain and ace of the local troupe, will also compete in the open 120-yard high hurdles, toeing the starting mark with some of the best high school, junior college and collegiate sprinters of the day. Charley Webber, former Santa Ana junior collegian and now one of the stars of the U. S. C. stable, will be one of the starters in the steeplechase.

"Tex" Oliver, coach of the Saint b. v. d. ballet, said he would enter teams in the novice and open 4-man, 440 yard relays, the novice and open 4-man, mile relays and the novice 880-yard relay.

The personnel of these squads, he announced will be:

440 (open)—Velarde, Moffat, Carlyle and Warner.

440 (novice)—Beaver, Berry, Keeler and Mossberg.

Mile (open)—Moffat, Carlyle, Velarde and Warner.

Mile (novice)—Beaver, Berry, Keeler and Mossberg.

White, Williams, Cooke, Musick and Rust will go along with the squad and if there is room all other track men not mentioned on any of the squads will make the trip to the carnival. Rust and Musick are quite likely to take part in the discus throw if such an event is on the program.

Almost every high school in Orange county and most of those in Southern California will send teams to the San Bernardino meet. Among the entrants will be Frank Wykoff and Russell Slocum, crack young sprinters from Glendale high school, who with Zaun and Beatty, will take a shot at the world interscholastic record for the half-mile relay.

Howard Bear, track manager, has scheduled a dual meet with Orange high school for the Santa Ana cinderpath sometime next week.

A squad of eight Santa Ana junior college tracksters will take part in the A. A. U. relay meet in the Los Angeles Coliseum tomorrow. The troupe will include Mark Martin, Rod Smiley, "Pete" Twist, Young, "Red" Guyer, Russell Hind, Roscoe Bradberry and Bob Jacques.

BRITON DRIVES CAR 192 MILES AN HOUR

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 17.—Captain Malcolm Campbell, British racing driver, sent his Napier "Blue Bird" thundering over the Daytona-Ormond sands at 193 miles an hour in a test run today. His speed was approximately 10 miles less than the world's record. He is here in an attempt to beat the record.

COAST LEAGUERS COME HIGH

Four players and $40,000—that's what owners of Mickey Finn, Pacific Coast league infielder, are asking for him. They point to the sale of Jimmy Reese, Willie Kamm, Lyn Lary, shown below, reading left to right, and other coast league stars as a reason for their demand.

By BILLY EVANS

Coast league ball players come high. There is a reason, of course; possibly it is superlative ability and then again maybe the climate has something to do with it.

It is an interesting fact that a majority of the high-priced minor leaguers now doing business in the majors first gained fame on the Pacific Coast.

Jimmy O'Connell set the fashion, more or less, in high prices when the Giants paid $75,000 for him. He had a varying career with the Giants.

Several times McGraw weakened on him, feeling he couldn't make the grade. Always, at such times, O'Connell would show enough stuff to cause McGraw to change his mind. Just when it seemed he was about ready to deliver, he was barred from baseball.

Kamm Cost $100,000

Billy Kamm of Chicago, one of the greatest fielding third basemen of all time and a pretty fair batsman, cost the White Sox in the neighborhood of $100,000 in money and players.

Connie Mack one year paid Portland something like $40,000 for Third Baseman Sammy Hale and about $60,000 to Salt Lake for Outfielder Paul Strand. This investment of $100,000 gave Mack a good third sacker but Strand was a complete bust.

Tony Lazzeri cost the New York Yankees about $40,000 and it was money well spent. This young man just about started the team chaperoned by Miller Huggins on

THREE RECORDS ARE BROKEN IN HIGH SCHOOL DECATHLON

Three of the records established last year in the decathlon events at Santa Ana high school were broken in the series just concluded and the new marks will go on to the school records, Walter Scott, supervisor of physical education, disclosed today.

The new records were in the shot put, broad jump and push-up.

Clarence Fairchilds ran the 100-yard dash in 10.5 seconds. The previous shot put record was broken by Norman Paul with a mark of 41 feet 5 inches. Byron Chase set a new total of 54 consecutive push-ups from the floor.

Four of the decatholon winners of last year made marks that were capable of withstanding the onslaught of this year's rivalry for places on the first ten. Manley Moffat, brother of John Moffat, twice champion of the decathlon, Fred Fosdick, "Bomo" Koral and Ray Lancaster are all listed among the first ten highest scorers over the two-year period.

POLY LIGHTIES BEAT ALHAMBRA CAGERS, 19-15

Just one more hurdle, San Diego, today obstructed the way of Santa Ana high school's Class B basketball team to the championship of the Coast Preparatory league following the 19 to 15 victory of Coach Bill Cook's 130-pounders over the Alhambra lightweights in Andrews gymnasium here yesterday.

San Diego, like Santa Ana, is up on top of the pile with five victories and one defeat and the meeting of these two quintets at San Diego next week will be in the nature of a titular contest although Whittier, the only team that has taken the measure of the locals, also must be reckoned with.

The star of the Alhambra clash on the offense, was Russell ("Red") Sullivan, center. He was high point scorer and it was his playing in the first half that gave Santa Ana the lead that enabled Poly to keep in front. Santa Ana led all the way.

At the end of the first period, the Alhambra team was close on the heels of the Saint lightweights with the count, 8 to 6. During the second quarter, the Santa Ana attack started rolling over the opposition and when the half was called Cook's men were ahead, 15 to 9. The score was 19 to 15 at the termination of the third quarter, both sides being held scoreless in the final period.

Both "Swede" Williams and Monty Flanders, Santa Ana forwards, were being guarded so closely that they were not able to shoot many baskets. Neil Hall substituted for Flanders.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17.—A romance of the movie lots culminated here today in the engagement of Adela Rogers St. Johns, playwright and author, and Richard (Dick) Hyland, Stanford university gridiron star.

The couple met when Hyland was brought here to supervise the filming of a football story, which Mrs. St. Johns adapted for the screen.

The writer secured a divorce last March from Ivan St. Johns, magazine editor.

COLLEGE GIRLS ORGANIZE FOR HOCKEY SERIES

Teams have been organized and captains elected for the series of hockey matches at Santa Ana junior college the last of this month. Three teams, two from the freshman class and one from the sophomores section, will whack it out for the championship title in a double round series arranged by Mrs. Ellen Foote, girls' coach.

Miss Dorothy Plank will captain one of the freshmen squads and Miss Josephine Ball the other.

The vote on the captain of the sophomore team was split between Miss Julia Cummings and Miss Mary Jane Owens and another ballot will be taken when all members of the squad are present to cast their votes.

some plans of his own about the next opponent for Dundee.

A victory for Hudkins means a title bout for him against Dundee, in the Garden March 23. Nothing is said about Baker.

"Just for that I'll show 'em not to cross the bridge before they get to it," the sergeant muttered under his breath today.

"Yeh, what about me. If I win I hold the sack. Well, Mr. Hudkins ain't gonna get that bout with Dundee. I'll see to that."

There is a lot of good fighting left in Baker and he may make good his prediction.

The sergeant stopped Hudkins once before and he may be able to send Ace into a nose dive again. In a second bout Hudkins reversed the decision by defeating Baker after he had him on the floor twice for counts of nine each. Hudkins was on the floor once himself.

The proposal will be adopted or rejected at a C. I. F. meeting in April. Santa Ana coaches are adopting a "watchful waiting" policy, taking no part in the warfare against the new "thing." The attitude of the local men is understood to be favorable to the C. I. F. proposal but coaches here are more or less on the fence and will be satisfied if the present system is retained.

GODFREY MAULS HIS SPARRING PARTNERS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—George Godfrey continued to maul his sparring partners at Soper's ranch at Ojai today in preparation for his bout with Paolino Uscudun, Basque heavyweight, here February 28.

The huge Negro has taken off 17 pounds and is down to 228 pounds. He was to do eight rounds of sparring today, two rounds each with four opponents.

Paolino was fretting under the restraining hands of his managerial board, which has refused to permit him to do any boxing Sunday. Meanwhile his two husky sparring partners, Leo Reibel and Tony Randolph, did light gymnasium work and explored citrus groves in the neighborhood of the Bastanchury ranch.

AMERICAN SLEDDERS SCORE IN OLYMPICS

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 17.—American sledders scored a noteworthy victory today along the famous cresta run when they finished one-two in the skeleton races of the ninth Olympiad.

John Heaton, U. S., finished in the time of 3 minutes 1.8 seconds; Jennison Heaton, U. S., was second with 3 minutes, 3.8 seconds, and Lord Northesk of England had a time of 3 minutes, 5.1 seconds.

The United States speed skating team left St. Moritz yesterday without waiting for a report on the cancellation of the proposed award of the 10,000 meter race to Irving Jaffe.

Unfavorable weather, the outcome of the 10,000 meter race and numerous protests against the method of handling the games has left but little interest in the remaining events.

Transfer Student Runs Fast Quarter

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—J. It is fairly safe to assert tha' the aforesaid Burke will make his name known and honored before he finishes at the Trojan school, however, for with about a week of training he stepped off the 440 yard dash in 50 seconds and turned right around and ran the half mile in 2:02. He will not be eligible to represent the Trojans until the 1929 season.

LIONS CLUB IS ADDRESSED BY WHITTIER MAN

Cities do not grow at random, they are directed by the "community men" and every city stands in need of the "Community man," Burl Martin, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Whittier, told members of the Santa Ana Lions club yesterday in an address on the "Community Man."

Pointing out that every business knows, or should know on the 31st of December whether or not his enterprise has been operated the previous 12 months at a profit or loss, Martin said that the profit and loss account is not complete unless the individual also can show some useful service to his community.

The secretary said that statistics of clubs and semi-public organizations revealed that less than 4 1-2 per cent of the membership are community men—men who give some of their time and finances to projects that tend to build up their city.

Community men must have a conscience and be broad enough to bury selfishness in the interest of the community," Martin said, and he illustrated his point by stating that if a park site is under consideration, the community man should forget personal interests, should he be directly interested in a particular location because it might benefit property he owns, and support a location that would be best for the city as a whole.

"Men who shirk their duty in chamber of commerce identification and work are not community men," commented the Whittier booster.

With Dr. Gar Ross officiating as chairman, the Whittier club provided the entire program at the meeting, and at its conclusion members voted the entertainment one of the best it has had in recent months.

One of the delightful features was the appearance of Miss Parmelia Smith, of Whittier, in a group of songs. Miss Smith has a rich contralto voice and she was forced to sing two encores before the roaring men would permit her to quit the floor. Miss Smith instantly became popular with Lions of the Southland when she sang at the Riverside convention. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Jeannette Saunders.

PLANE AIDS ICE-LOCKED SHIP

ITALY WILL RAISE ANCIENT VESSELS

ROME, Feb. 17.—Roman vessels lying at the bottom of the Lake of Nemi are at last to be brought to light. Their existence is no longer a matter of speculation and a commission was formed in April last year to study the various projects for salvaging the ships, the expense of the undertaking and the chances of success. The report of this commission was taken up by officials of five engineering, electrical and hydraulic firms, who on January 3 offered their services free of cost to the Italian government to bring the first of these ships to light. The offer has been accepted and the work is to begin immediately.

An electrical firm of Milan, in conjunction with the Ansaldo Motor company and the gas and electric companies of Rome and of the Campagna, are to supply the necessary equipment for 200 electric pumps that will force the water from the lake into the outlet which was originally constructed by Roman engineers in the second century A. D., and which leads by a tunnel to the sea.

The probable precarious condition of the ships will make it impossible to lift them out of the lake; it has even been feared that they might suffer if the lake were drained too rapidly, and therefore the work is to proceed gradually. The fall in the water is estimated to attain 1.25 meters to 1.50 meters for every thirty day's pumping. If the work is successful, the prow of the first ship should be visible within six months from the time when the pumps get working.

INYO INDEPENDENT STOPS PUBLICATION

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—The famous Inyo County Independent, one of California's oldest newspapers, has printed its final issue, it has been announced here.

The paper, whose press once was used by Bret Harte, has for some years been the center of the bitter water feud in Owens valley.

It was controlled by Mark and W. W. Watterson, bankers, who were recently convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to San Quentin when their five banks in the valley collapsed.

The press of the Independent was brought around the horn and lost in the water of San Pedro harbor when an attempt was made to land it.

It later was reclaimed and used for a time in San Diego, being later taken to Virginia City and set up during the gold rush.

According to John W. Dixon, secretary of the Inyo Chamber of Commerce, the entire establishment of the Independent can be purchased for $250.

DEFENDANT IS VICTORIOUS IN DAMAGE TRIAL

Robert Day, 2415 North Main street, had slipped out from under the shadow of a possible $30,500 court judgment in a damage suit today. Action was brought against him by Albert and Jennie Hoffman, of Los Angeles, who tried to place responsibility on him for an automobile accident last June on North Main street.

A jury in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court yesterday afternoon returned a verdict in favor of Day, who had testified that the accident occurred when he had turned out to avoid another car which was leaving the curb. He kept on the right side of the street, he said, and the collision occurred when the Hoffman machine, which was passing another automobile, met his own. After the collision, another car hit the Day machine from the rear, he said.

Mrs. Hoffman is said to have received face lacerations and other injuries as a result of the crash.

Lower California Seen Big Oil Area

MEXICO, CITY, Feb. 17.—Lower California presents one of the greatest potential oil fields in the world at the present time, William Marshall, a British mineralologist declared. The territory to the south of San Diego and Tia Juana, Marshall said, is worthy of immediate exploitation on the largest possible scale.

Not only his own investigations but the work of other mineralogists, principally American, has convinced him that Lower California contains uncounted wealth in oil and will one day take its place among the leading oil producing centers of the world.

Marshall has spent two months in Mexico studying the oil situation. He declined an opinion on the result of his general investigation. He is a brother-in-law of Sir W. M. Ramsey, famous British archaeologist, and was founder of the Barrier Ranges Silver Mining association of Australia.

SEAL BEACH TO VOTE ON CITY HALL MARCH 12

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 17.—At a meeting of the Seal Beach city council last night, a resolution was adopted declaring that an emergency exists that demands the immediate replacing of a six-inch water pipe from Second to Fourteenth streets between Ocean avenue and Seal way in order to give fire protection to the city. The water superintendent, J. M. Ryan, was instructed to purchase 3600 feet of six-inch water pipe at Wilmington at a cost not to exceed $2020.

Ordinance 141, calling for a special election March 12 for the issue of bonds to cover the purchase of a site and the erection of a city hall and to extend the present sewer system to the East city limits, was adopted. Bonds include the sum of $30,000 for the former improvement and $20,000 for the latter.

The legality of taking a straw vote to determine the desire of the people as to their preference for the site offered by the Hellman-Bixby site or the Zerrell property of Electric avenue was referred to the city attorney, Burr Brown. DIERKER MADE PRESIDENT OF ORANGE HOUSE

ORANGE, Feb. 17.—A proposition to double the capacity of the packing plant and the election of officers were two of the important matters considered at the annual meeting of the Santiago Orange Growers' association in the I. O. O. F. building here yesterday.

No definite decision was reached regarding the proposal to enlarge the plant, although discussion of the question indicated the growers unanimously in favor of increasing the size of the plant. The directors were instructed to make a survey of the project as to cost and other details and to present their report at the next annual meeting.

Officers elected were as follows: President, Ed. Dierker; first vice-president, E. P. Boyer; second vice president, J. Roy Smith; secretary, R. E. Gross; directors, E. E. Campbell, H. A. Brown, William Feldner, George Schmackenberg.

Following the secretary's report, L. D. Palmer, manager of the Orange county Fruit Growers' exchange, gave a brief talk on last year's business.

The afternoon session was devoted to talks by J. O. Cook, head of the advertising department and Dana C. King, sales manager of the California Fruit Growers' exchange.

Cook gave the highlights of advertising done by the exchange. He explained that the market for citrus fruit starts almost at the birth of the consumer and continues so long as he lives.

The speaker told of the means used to interest the child in the use of citrus fruit as he grows older. Maps are furnished showing the places where citrus fruit is grown, the largest areas being found in Southern California. These maps for the school children, are supplemented with other things, among them posters to color. Teachers often offer an orange as a prize for the poster that is colored the best, Cook said.

The place of citrus fruit in diet and its relation to health are stressed by booklets, 5000 of which were purchased by doctors last year, he declared. Folders are given to older pupils in the schools as are cook books containing receipts for using oranges, the latter also being given to the housewife, he said. Two and one half million of their folders were given to cooking classes last year. Advertising, Cook stated, was one of the biggest factors in the creation of a market for citrus fruit.

"California citrus fruit is the state's contribution to the health of the nation," declared Dana G. King, in the talk which followed that of Cook. King recently completed a trip which covered many of the countries of the world where there is a market for citrus fruit and he presented a number of pictures of conditions in those countries to the growers.

One of the interesting things said by King was that in the past 20 years, $8,500,000 had been spent in advertising Sunkist orange. Through this advertising, he said, the consumer had ceased to regard the orange as a luxury and now regarded it as a necessity.

King called attention to the electric juice extractor for homes on the market, which he explained was a strong indication of the increased demand for orange juice.

ORANGE, Feb. 17.—The adult class of the First Christian church, which is studying world friendship, heard an interesting report this week of the recent visit of a number of its members to the Christian institute in Los Angeles.

The visit to Los Angeles is to be followed by visits to several Mexican missions in Orange county. The account of the excursion to the Los Angeles mission was given by Mrs. Rebecca Pope, who stated that 200 Japanese children were in attendance.

Members of the class visiting the institute were the Rev. and Mrs. D. Skidmore McDonald and daughter, Josephine, and A. C. Epley and Mrs. Rebecca Pope.

Originally drilled to 4444 feet, it was not much of a producer and plans were made to deepen it. It is close to the Continental's Navarro No. 1, which produced from the top sand and the Featherstone and Preston well on the Francis property.

The Standard Oil company is progressing rapidly on Anaheim Union Water No. 4, the present depth being 2000 feet.

TWO FINED AT H. B.

S. Bergey. Bergey alleged that Rodriquez attempted to prevent him from placing some attachment notices on his property.

Newport In Smelt Lead On Pacific

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 17.—This city is believed to be the biggest smelt fishing center of the Pacific Coast, figures showing that more than 100 tons of the fish have been caught here during the past season.

The season runs from September to February. The fish are caught in seines pulled in by horses. One and sometimes two hauls are made in one day.

Frank Suttora and J. P. Horman do most of the smelt fishing. Suttora landed the record haul of the season recently, when he hauled in 7900 pounds of the fish at one time.

The smelt is marketed in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle and inland towns. Some of the fish are sold as far inland as Texas.

100 GROWERS HEAR TALKS ON CITRUS FRUIT

FULLERTON, Feb. 17.—Directors and growers of five northern Orange county citrus associations heard talks by Dana C. King, sales manager of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, H. L. Ramsey, field manager of the organization, and C. C. Chapman, of Fullerton, at a meeting at McFarland's cafe last night.

Spain produces more oranges than California and Florida combined, King said, but the methods of handling are crude, King said. King stated that 550,000 boxes of oranges were shipped to England and northern Europe last year from California. Prospects for an increased demand for California oranges are very bright, the speaker said.

If, King declared, the increased demand continued at the same rate, it would be but a short time until 1,500,000 boxes would be shipped. There were 50,000 boxes of grape fruit shipped to Europe last year, he stated.

Ramsey stressed the importance of careful handling of fruit in picking, packing and grading.

Old times in the citrus fruit industry in Orange county were touched upon by C. C. Chapman, Fullerton pioneer and capitalist. Chapman described the troubles and problems of the orange growers in 1888, comparing modern methods of packing with those of that period.

Nearly 100 growers and directors were present.

Hostess Plans Party For Birthday of Young Guest

When Mrs. W. A. Irvine, of 818 Garfield street, entertained the Misses Irene McEntee and Millicent Burnham over the week-end, she planned a pleasant birthday party also, in honor of young Miss Irene.

The young girls enjoyed the group of games planned for the afternoon, in which Millicent Burnham, Dorothy Deck and Dorine Haupert were winners of attractive prizes. Many lovely gifts were presented to the honoree by her friends.

At the refreshment hour the guests found their places at a valentine-decked table. Tall red tapers and other appointments carried out the appropriate idea. A lovely birthday cake baked for the occasion by Mrs. Roy Roepke, was greatly admired and enjoyed.

Those helping Miss Irene celebrate her birthday were, Chalina and Jean Estelle McBurney, Millicent Burnham, Geraldine and Dorine Haupert, Norma Brummer, Dolores Brooks, and Olga and Dorothy Deck.

Mrs. Irvine was assisted in the games and serving by Mrs. James Hughes.

Santa Ana Dancer Successful in East

Among popular entertainers who have gone out from Santa Ana and won laurels in other states and cities, none have been greeted with more warmth and admiration than Paulo Gonzalez, and friends of him and of his sister, Mrs. E. Lucero of 2026 West Fifth street, will be interested in the success he is meeting in a tour of the New England states.

With two pretty senoritas, the Santa Ana is billed as "Paulo, Chiquita and Paquita," and the three are giving Spanish dances all through the east. They were especially successful in New Haven, Conn., and Boston, Mass., and will finish their tour in New York City, with bookings until next June. So it will be some time before they return to the western coast.

Miss Faustina Lucero, cousin of Paulo Gonzalez, is now with Fanchon and Marco, and is dancing in Oregon and Washington. With Ben Gonzalez to complete the dancing trio, the three were always active here in entertainment circles, especially with the Orange County Choral union.

St. Ann's Inn will serve a turkey dinner Wednesday, February 22nd, followed by a dance. Dinner and dance $2.00 per person. Dance only, $1.00 per couple. Dancing from 9:00 p. m. until 12:00 m. Dinner 6:00 p. m. until 8:30 p. m. (Adv.)

Local Pianist Scores Success at Concert In Los Angeles

Of special interest musically, was the concert given Tuesday night in Los Angeles at the Beaux Arts auditorium, when Earl Fraser, leading pianist of this city, appeared on the program with Harriet Henderson of the music department of Whittier college.

The two artists gave a satisfyingly beautiful program, which was enjoyed by a large crowd of interested music lovers, including a number from this city, who drove to Los Angeles especially to hear Mr. Fraser. All were agreed that his technique and musicianship were attaining masterly proportions and that in the evening's program, both were given full expression.

His group included an Albenis-Godowsky "Tango," languorously beautiful, "The Spinners" by Rhene-Baton, and "Legend" by Medtner. Of the three, "The Spinners" was probably the most popular with the audience, which expressed its appreciation enthusiastically. But in point of deep interest for those with special musical knowledge, was the final number, "Legend," so seldom presented by any artist, that its inclusion on the program was an event of rare interest.

Mr. Fraser was greeted by an ovation, and at the conclusion of the evening, Charles Wakefield Cadman, who was in the audience, paid him the added tribute of declaring that he wished he might play his own music as the Santa Anan played it. For serving also as accompanist for Miss Henderson, Mr. Fraser played among other numbers, the famous "Spring Song of the Robin Woman" from the Cadman opera "Shanewis." Another tribute came from Franz Darvas of the Orange County School of Fine Arts at Anaheim, who declared the pianist's work was "the most completely satisfying that he had heard this year."

Miss Henderson created quite as favorable an impression with her songs, and proved herself an artist of rare ability. Her charming personality aided her in her work, and her voice, a dramatic soprano with lyric qualities, was accorded the highest praise.

Her program was an exceedingly difficult one, but presented with a forceful beauty that was delightful to her audience. Outstanding numbers in addition to the one from "Shanewis," were "Sicilienne" (Pergolese) the pathetically beautiful "Aie de Lia" by Debussy; Schumann's "Mondnacht," and "Les Silhouettes" by Sheffield.

Legion Auxiliary To Give Bridge Party

A leap year card party is the enjoyable event on the calendar of the American Legion auxiliary, and is to be staged on the night of February 29, for the pleasure of members and their friends, and the benefit of the Disabled Veterans' association which is always of first interest to the loyal young women of the auxiliary.

Plans for the social evening at Legion hall, are all in charge of Mrs. Morris Cain, chairman of the ways and means committee, and she has set a high goal, since she and her committee are hoping to excel the famous Christmas party given by the order, and remembered as one of the most delightful events of the holidays.

Everyone is always interested in prizes awarded at such an affair, and so the committee members are already at work on their gifts, which they hint, are of unusual charm. Both bridge and 500 winners will be rewarded, and those who come in parties and pivot, and those who progress, will be given equal chance to win. At this party, those who prefer to play 500, will be allowed to form in private parties and pivot, the same as the bridge players.

Refreshments will be included for the small price asked for admission, and the whole affair sounds so inviting, that those in charge, anticipate the largest crowd ever to assemble in Legion hall for an evening of cards. Those who wish to make individual or table reservations, may do so by telephoning Mrs. Cain at Santa Ana 519 W, or Tustin 185.

S. A. Country Club

Dancing tonight at Santa Ana Country club, promises to offer one of those delightfully informal evenings which members so much enjoy. Arrangements include the Doyle orchestra, whose music has enlivened previous affairs and proven highly "danceable!"

While the party is to be strictly informal, with dancing from 9 o'clock to midnight, a number of small parties have been formed, to motor down to the club early and enjoy a leisurely dinner as a preliminary to the evening. Reservations for several such parties, have been made during the past few days, and F. T. McGilvray, the manager, anticipates several more last-minute calls.

The big balloon soared 'round and 'round, an then it settled toward the ground. The Tinies watched it till it came real close. Then Clowny said, "It has a face. Well, goodness me, two great big eyes I plainly see. It seems that all its body is away up in its head."

The queer balloon bobbed 'round a while, and then it broke out in a smile. Said Scouty, "He is friendly, and he's going to land, I hope. See how the breezes make him sail, and look, he seems to have a tail." "Ha, ha," laughed little Carpy, "that is just a piece of rope."

They watched it dip and rise some more until all of their necks were sore. "I can't look up much longer," shouted Scouty, in despair. "I wish that it would go away, or else come right down here and play. Say, wouldn't it be fun if we could float up in the air?"

"Oh, no," snapped Clowny, "Not for me! I'm just as happy as can be with both my feet upon the ground. It's safer here, by far. We've taken trips up in the breeze and sailed the skies, above the trees. I'm sure that I would much prefer to stay right where we are."

Just then the balloon came very low, and Scouty shouted, "Say, I know how we can have a heap of fun. Let's try and grab the tail. Unless he makes an awful fuss, we'll pull him right down here with us. Perhaps, if we are friendly, he will teach us how to sail."

So, when the rope came very near, the Tinies rushed up with a cheer. They all grabbed hold and held on tight. And then there came a scare. Before the bunch cauld realize, the big balloon began to rise, and then the little Tinymites were lifted in the air.

(The Tinymites have a thrilling ride in the next story.)

Farm Advisor's Office Has New Member on Its Force

Never in the history of the Orange county farm advisor's office, have California climatic and soil conditions been so thoroughly satisfactory, and purple scale and nemetodes have no terrors at all for Harold E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, who today was working to make the stork the state bird.

For that stately fowl last night left a baby girl weighing eight and three-quarters pounds, at the Wahlberg home, 619 South Broadway, and today the genial farm advisor and member of the Lions club, is extolling county agricultural conditions in a manner never before reached. The little daughter has been named Marjorie Adele Wahlberg, in compliment to some dear cousins of her mother. Rejoicing with her proud parents, are two "big brothers," Masters Brent Wesley Wahlberg, and Robert Harold Wahlberg.

Birthday Party in Edgar Home

A crowd of young people of the Reformed Presbyterian Christian Endeavor society waited for the return of Faris Edgar a few evenings ago to help him celebrate his birthday. Faris was away at the Caltech contest and did not get home till about midnight. However, the young folk waited and had a joyous celebration. Light refreshments were served by the girls of the party.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Ebell's Arts and Crafts section will meet in the clubhouse on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Miss Effie Douglas will give instructions in the making of bags. Members are reminded to bring their own materials for any type of bag desired.

The Fraternal Brotherhood will entertain the Los Angeles drill team and the supreme officers of the lodge at tonight's meeting to be held in El Camino hall at 8 o'clock.

A Washington and Lincoln Birthday program, similar to an enjoyable event staged last year at St. Ann's Inn, will be presented at the Inn on Sunday, beginning at noon and continuing at intervals until 8 p. m. Miss Edith Cornell of the Julia Lathrop junior high school music department, will present a group of young girls in colonial costume, in a series of dainty songs and minuets. Decorations in the dining-room will be completed by a lobby display of antique furniture, for which various Santa Anans are loaning their choice family heirlooms.

School Friends Join In Enjoyment of Gay Party

Among the many enjoyable parties staged during the valentine season, none was gayer or prettier than that given by Miss Winifred Ball, when she entertained a group of young friends at her home, 111 West Seventeenth street.

Decorations, favors and refreshments, all suggested the season, and hearts formed an appropriate amusement.

Miss Marian Brownridge scored high in the game, and Miss Mary Tuthill, second. But they were not the only ones to receive gifts, for it became known that the young hostess herself was a valentine, so many pretty birthday gifts were showered on her.

Aiding in all details of the afternoon, was Miss Maybelle Ball, sister of the hostess, while others enjoying the pretty affair, were the Misses Marian Brownridge, Sussana Alexander, Mildred Spicer, Dorothy Dula, Betty Smedley, Mary Tuthill and Martha Tuthill.

Pioneer Club Meets With Mrs. Diers

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Diers at 1115 North Main street, was the scene of an interesting gathering early in the week, when the Pioneer club of the Women's Relief Corps was entertained. This club is made up of those who have been members of the W. R. C. for twenty-five or more years, and numbers just twenty-nine Santa Ana women.

Among interesting details of the meeting was the election of Mrs. Emma Mosbaugh as junior vice president, and Mrs. Juliette Smith as chaplain.

At the conclusion of the business interval, Mrs. Diers served refreshments while her guests chatted of their organization, and their plans for future work. The Pioneers are both a state and a national order and as such play prominent part in patriotic affairs.

Charming Senorita In Spanish Program

Many Santa Ana music lovers are planning to motor to Fullerton tonight where they will attend a colorful program of Spanish songs and dances as presented by Senorita Luisa Espinel at the Fullerton union high school. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock, and is to be given under the auspices of the Altar society of St. Mary's Catholic church.

The charming songster comes to this country as a special envoy of the Instituto de las Espanas. The Institute is supported by the king and queen of Spain as well as by many scientific and literary organizations.

Senorita Espinel will don costumes depicting various stages in Spanish folk lore history, and her songs will all be taken from ancient folk songs of that country.

Honeymooners' Return Is Celebrated with Charivari

Among the friendly greetings awaiting the return of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lewis from their honeymoon tour of Southern California, none was more warmly genuine than that planned by the young people of Tustin high and grammar schools, who staged an old-fashioned charivari in their honor.

The marriage of Mr. Lewis and Miss Minnie C. Childs of Tustin, was of interest to all their friends, but of special interest to the young people, who have claimed the bride as their very own property, and who have always found a haven in her home. Their first feeling was one of half resentment that someone else should exert a stronger claim, but they have now accepted Mr. Lewis as enthusiastically as they have claimed his bride.

This acceptance was aided perhaps, by the reception accorded them on the night of the impromptu party, for soon after their arrival at the ranch home, the serenaders were served a variety of cakes, ice cream and candies—and served over and over again. Mrs. C. A. Vance had dropped in to spend the evening, and aided in greeting the young people, and Mrs. Lewis pressed a number of high school boys and girls into service as her aides, so the evening was a merrily busy affair from start to finish.

The motor honeymoon of the hosts, had led them from Tustin after their quiet marriage and the beautifully appointed breakfast served in the C. A. Vance home, to Riverside where they made Glenwood Mission Inn their headquarters while they enjoyed short trips out from the city to various interesting spots. The remainder of the time was spent in San Diego and vicinity.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Valentine Tea

The valentine motif was chosen by Mrs. E. A. Bell and her helpers of the First Baptist Woman's society, for the February tea given Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors for the society members and friends.

Scarlet hearts, baskets of red carnations and many gay valentines added charm to the scene.

The many guests present enjoyed the games and entertainment planned for the afternoon, all of them eloquent of the season. Miss Mildred Marchant gave two whistling solos, a "Caprice" by MacDowell and "Heart of Mine." Mrs. Roland Stearns and Mrs. Roland Dye sang a duet, "The Heart of a Rose" and as a second number, "If I Were King." They were accompanied by Mrs. Albert Hill.

A bowl of beautiful red sweet peas and maiden hair ferns centered the table when the tea hour arrived.

Congregational Missionary

The Congregational Missionary department of the Woman's Union was entertained by Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. E. M. Blake, president, opened the meeting with a short business session during which the World's Day of Prayer was announced for February 24. Mrs. Benjamin Livesey and Mrs. A. E. Chapman were chosen to represent the society as members of the Federated Missionary choir.

The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. F. B. Royce who chose as her topic "The Call to Service and What It Should Mean."

Mrs. Mary Bruner reviewed the first chapter of the book, "The Adventure of the Church." Mrs. Bruner's intense interest in the subject and her desire to impress others with the author's views held the close attention of her listeners.

Mrs. Benjamin Livesey accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Crose sang Van de Water's beautiful selection, "The Good Shepherd" and then by request an arrangement of the hymn "Love Divine All Love Excelling."

Mrs. F. A. Bangs then related the story of how five years ago, she had been led to adopt the care of an orphan girl in Syria through Near East Relief work and of the satisfaction it had given her. She read a translated letter from the girl expressing gratitude and love for her benefactor.

Very dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Gowen, Mrs. Leibig and Mrs. Lentz at the close of the program.

Presbyterian Aid

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church held its regular meeting on Wednesday. Mrs. Victor Montgomery led the devotionals, with "Light and Life" as her theme, using the first chapter of John as the lesson.

The president, Mrs. Clyde Bach, conducted the business session which consisted of reports and the primary election of officers. The southwest section women presented the program of two piano solos by Evelyn Griset, "Monastery Bells" and "Sextette", both of which were very much enjoyed. Marjorie Lauderbach gave two readings, "Auto Intoxication," and "Mother's Hour of Rest" which proved very amusing.

Pleasant Dinner Party Followed by Evening Of Court Whist

Mr. and Mrs. James Dickson entertained at their lovely home on McFadden street recently with a dinner party which proved to be one of the most delightful affairs of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Dickson were assisted in their future duties as hosts by the latter's father and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman.

Tall candles in pretty candlesticks, tied with brilliant tulle, bright hued flowers, and valentine place cards, made up the gay decorations in the dining room of the Dickson home.

Court whist was played during the hours following the dinner. Mrs. Oscar Carothers and Irwin Decker held high scores while Mrs. Clifford Cole was low. Each received an attractive prize.

Guests at the affair included Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Haley, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carothers, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Swarthout, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cole, Mrs. Chesley Landers, and Mrs. Helen McCollum.

Who Cares For Your Child?

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Mr. Angelo Patri, the much quoted authority on child-training, writes a chapter on nurse maids that is more than worth quoting.

Some members of the "union" were conversing on park benches. The "little miss," a tiny mite of three, the charge of one of the gossips, stood listening in.

One of the nurse maids pointed to her significantly. "Go and play with your things, darlin'," said the one who was supposed to be looking after her but who was busy whispering and making veiled references to her "family."

Mr. Patri says, "Darlin' didn't understand in the terms the gossiping maid understood, but the remarks sank into her mind, and there they would stay to be recalled at most unfortunate times and places."

Another nurse maid said to her charge, "Sit there till I come for you and mind you, don't stir or speak to a living soul until I come and fetch you." Then, as she lifted the little chap to the bench she ordered, "If you move off that spot or speak to anybody, that big brown bear you saw a minute ago will come back here and not leave a pick of you."

She moved off to the turn of the road to talk to a friend. The wee frightened figure huddled close. He couldn't have moved if he wanted to. Later when she came back and lifted him down she said, "I'll tell the bear not to bite you this time."

Another one sits and knits and allows the boiling sun to shine on the baby's eyes and face. Others never look to see if flies are crawling over unprotected sleeping babies.

Mr. Patri adds that good characters are expensive but not nearly so much so as poor ones. He suggests that if a nurse must be had, for two mothers to pool their money and hire a good one for both babies. "Only a trained and trusty caretaker should take care of little children," he remarks.

Mr. Patri, the principal of a public school in New York City, lives in a district where he is able to observe these things. Most American mothers take care of their own children. A few can afford trained nurses—but he speaks to that still large enough class who will advertise and then put their babies in charge of whomsoever may answer.

Beauty Chats

By ANN ALYSIS

When the eye ball itself is irritated, or the tiny blood vessels are congested or the eye feels tired, a weak solution of boric acid will act with magic effect.

Tired eyes are fatal to your pretensions to beauty, and here is a simple remedy that will often restore their brilliancy, to say nothing of refreshment:

Boric acid, 10 grains.
Distilled water, 1 ounce.

Make up as much of the solution as you please, but keep the proportions as above. Use in an eye bath. It is a help to the lids and surrounding tissues to apply the solution to them also, by means of a small piece of absorbent cotton.

By following these directions, you will tone up the skin and smooth out those fine little creases that lurk near the corners of the eyes awaiting the passing of the years to bloom forth as full blown wrinkles. A very delicate cream is helpful in preventing and erasing crow's-feet as these aggravating creases are called.

Two oak chests that have been fastened to the end of a pier on the English coast for many months were for a scientific experiment that is expected to bring trade worth $10,000,000 a year to the British Empire. In the chests, which were perforated to let in the water, were hundreds of yards of British sisal hemp and manila hemp, and the experiment was to test their relative strength and durability. The results showed that as good rope as that heretofore imported exclusively from the Philippines can be made in the empire.

AFLAME IN THE SKY

AT THE THEATER

WEST COAST-WALKER

Intrigue, love and adventures on the vast Sahara desert offer something spectacularly and refreshingly attractive in the line of motion picture entertainment at the West Coast-Walker theater where "Beau Sabreur" is being shown.

Gary Cooper plays the role of Major Henri de Beaujolais, the dashing and virile young Frenchman who vows he will never look at a woman—and then meets one. Cooper is ideal in the part, and gives a fine performance of the handsome soldier-sheik of the burning sands. Evelyn Brent is the girl, Mary Vanbrugh, who becomes mixed up in a series of thrilling adventures with Cooper. Noah Beery, William Powell, Mitchell Lewis, Roscoe Karns, Joan Standing, Arnold Kent, Frank Reicher, Raoul Paoli and Oscar Smith, are other members of the strong cast.

The battle scenes, in which a horde of Touaregs, the desert wolves, sweep down on a little oasis and meet up with several dynamite mines planted in the sands, present some of the most amazing sequences ever put on a screen.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

Scenes from the famous "Battle of Paris" with a fight in a Paris cabaret during the hectic postwar days, a series of hilarious escapades during the American Legion convention, and the thrilling round-up of a desperate band of Apaches by two excruciatingly funny ex-doughboys form some of the highlights of "Legionnaires in Paris," featuring Al Cooke and Kit Guard and now showing at the Yost Broadway theater.

WEST END THEATER

With the same wild and carefree abandon with which he rode into the hearts of movie lovers as "The Boy Rider" and "The Slingshot Kid," Buzz Barton, thirteen-year-old daredevil of the range, rides to new triumphs in "Wizard of the Saddle," which opened last night at the West End theater.

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

"The Flower of Mexico," the current attraction of the Orana Players this week, is one which is dramatically different than anything that has been given by the company before.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

HELD TO ANSWER ON ROBBERY CHARGES

Hubert K. Glover, alias Roy Frazer, alleged gun man, charged with robbery, in connection with the holdups of several places at Sunset Beach during the past several weeks, was held to answer to the superior court on two counts from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday. Bail of $5000 on each count was demanded.

Glover is charged with robbing the Gleason's grocery story of several hundred dollars, and the Chris Cafe. He is alleged to have admitted his part in the robberies, according to officers.

George Terry, an alleged accomplice of Glover's, asked for a continuance of his preliminary examination this morning, when brought into court. The continuance was granted and examination set for February 21. Terry said that his parents were sending money here for his defense.

Sheriff's officers are searching for a third holdup man, known to have participated in several of the holdups, they declared.

norro's complaint is that the Nicaraguan constitution gives to the congress the right to hold and upervise elections and that elections otherwise conducted would be unconstitutional.

Thus, the political side of the Nicaraguan picture is dark for the present and will remain so unless some means are found to obtain a congressional majority for the proposed election law. Military prospects are brighter.

Against the rebellious General Sandino, the United States now has opposed a brigade of marines consisting of two regiments aggregating about 3000 men. In Nicaraguan waters is a special service squadron of six cruisers and gunboats. Actual fighting has declined from the peak moment of December 30, when six marines were killed and 28 wounded at Quilali. Reinforcements were hurried from the United States. Brigadier Logan Feland assumed command and Col. Mason Gulick was relieved and sent to Haiti.

A dozen marines and 10 Nicaraguan guardsmen have been killed since May when Stimson reported that the civil war was ended.

Shortly after the arrival of marine reinforcements, El Chipote, Sandino's "impregnable mountain," was occupied by a marine column without major opposition. There have been indications than Sandino, embarrassed by lack of funds as well as by augmented opposition, may finally be on the retreat, which will mark his disappearance as a major factor. His losses are unknown in this country.

TARIFF CASE TO HIGH U. S. COURT IN SHORT TIME

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The constitutionality of the flexible tariff comes before the U. S. supreme court in a few days.

A suit based squarely on the constitutional point, charging that congress violated the constitution in the 1922 tarif law which provided that the president could increase or decrease tariff rates on imports, will be reached on the docket late this month or early in March.

J. W. Hampton jr. and company, New York importers, brought the suit, protesting against a tariff of six cents a pound on barium dioxide imported. President Coolidge ordered the rate increased from four to six cents, under the flexible tariff provision.

The appeal charges that the law delegates legislative power to the president, in violation of the constitutional provision that all revenue bills must originate in the house of representatives.

The suit charges the law was economically unsound, and that it had failed to take the tariff out of politics.

'A purely political question like the tariff question can never be taken out of politics," Walter Evans Hampton, lawyer for the appellant, said in his brief outlining his argument. The U. S. court of customs appeals upheld constitutionality of the law, causing this appeal to the highest court.

The "flexible" provision specifies that the president may increase or decrease the tariff as much as 50 per cent, after an investigation. Hampton, however, charged that by changing valuation methods, substituting American for foreign valuations, actual increases of more than 100 per cent can be ordered under the law.

The government defends the law as a proper and lawful delegation of legislative authority. Hampton in reply points out that the president may in effect rewrite the entire tariff schedule under the law. The direction of the law that the presidential changes must be made to adjust prices between competition costs in the United States and in competing producing nations, Hampton says "was no formula at all."

"If this be constitutional, then all kinds of taxation, inheritance, income, internal revenue, can be similarly fixed by the executive," the Hampton brief says.

AUTO MISHAPS RESULT IN 3 COURT ACTIONS

Lawsuits based on automobile accidents occupied the attention of three departments of the Superior court here today and yesterday, involving over $30,000 of supposed damages.

Two are still in progress while the third, in which a drove of mules and a burning car figured prominently, was decided yesterday in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court in favor of the defendant, O. F. Easley, of Capistrano. Lawrence Linderman the plaintiff attempted to extract several hundred dollars in damages from Easley for allowing his mules to stray on the road at night, but failed to do so when Easley declared in answering the charge, that Linderman had allowed his car to burn at the side of the road after the fracas, refusing to let anyone extinguish the flames. Head Rutan and Scovel were attorneys for Easley.

A jury in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court is listening to evidence in a $30,000 case brought by Albert and Jennie Hoffman, of Los Angeles, against Robert H. Day, service station man, of Santa Ana. Their cars collided on Main street last June.

In Judge Homer G. Ames' department, D. Andrade has brought suit against the Union Rock company, the Yaeger Rock company and Fred Yaeger, in which he is trying to secure $634 in damages for injuries received in a collision at Santa Clara and Yorba streets last June.

Negress Railway Employe 47 Years

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 17.—Railroad men boast of being a hard, rough diamond sort but Aunt Maggie Lattimore, who has just rounded out 47 years of "railroading," hasn't found them so.

"They'se gentlemen, an' I ought to knew," the 65-year-old negress asserts.

Since she was 19 years old, the white cap, starched apron and ready smile of the station "handyman" have been familiar sights to travelers in and out of Knoxville.

When she first started working for the Southern railway she even called the trains, acted as information clerk and aided travelers as the Travelers' Aid does now.

She has little use for the new train announcers.

"A lot of people tells me they understood my annunciation better," she cackled.

COOKING SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Milholland points a way to better cooking flavors

MRS. Jennie L. Milholland is one of the hundreds of women who have written us, after following our suggestion to test Crisco by tasting it—just as a careful cook tastes her butter and milk. You'll be interested in what she discovered.

> "I have been doing my own family cooking for more than forty years. Many years ago I discovered the good qualities of Crisco by tasting it in comparison with other cooking fats. I taste everything I cook, and I am guided solely by tasting until I have the right ingredients compounded to my taste. I use Crisco because I have for many years considered it the sweetest and most wholesome of all cooking fats."

Now, everything we cook is judged by its taste. But how can we expect our foods to taste good unless the things we made them of taste good, too? Compare the taste of Crisco with that of other cooking fats. Had you imagined there could be such a difference? Think what an improvement Crisco's sweet, wholesome flavor will make in the taste of your own pies, cakes, muffins, biscuits and fried foods!

Victim Of Burns Dies Wednesday

Robert W. Barkelew, 23, employe of the Southern California Edison company, who was severely burned when a fuse blew out at the Fairview sub-station of the company, early yesterday morning, setting fire to his clothing, died at the Santa Ana Valley hospital Wednesday night.

The body was removed to the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors where Coroner Charles D. Brown will conduct an inquest this afternoon.

Barkelew was working near the fuse when it burned and his clothes, which were oily, caught fire, burning him over the body before fellow workmen could extinguish the flames.

No time for the funeral has been set, but services probably will be held in Los Angeles, it was said.

Lard vs. Shortening

Many people have wondered, "Why the usage of so much shortening in place of good rich lard?" In answer to this question one might state that price has been a factor, but in considering this factor many forget that shortening does not have the tissue-building qualities that lard does have.

Lard should be used when really rich lard can be obtained. Not all lard is truly rich, for it is said that a certain oil obtainable only in lard is "stolen" to be used by railroads and ships as an oil that will burn in the wind. Probably this "robbing" of animal lard has been another factor in the public beginning to use shortening.

Home made—or home rendered—lard has all the original tissue-building qualities. None of the valuable oils or other ingredients have been taken away. That's why OUR HOME RENDERED LARD is so popular. Our own lard is richer and better to use than any shortening. It gives a flavor that shortening cannot give, FOR IT IS RICH.

We have just installed a new lard kitchen that enables us to render a much better lard than ever before.

The change, he says, has been marked and so sudden, that thin the past 10 days the numr of jobs offered by the bureau s increased almost 24 per cent.

"At our present rate of increase," asserted, "we probably will ace twice as many men this onth as we did in December.

Reclaimed Land For Farmers On Credit Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. — Establishment of a credit fund to aid farmers settling on reclaimed lands is proposed by the interior department in announcing a reclamation settlement conference to meet in Washington.

Only seven per cent of those desiring to settle on land reclaimed by the department have $5000 or more, which is considered necessary to equip properly a farm without borrowing money, the statement points out, and urges the need of either federal or state credit funds to help these persons.

Among the subjects to be considered at the conference is the advisability of asking congress for legislation to promote settlement on irrigated land and facilitate farm development.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Cotton opened firm and advanced about $1 a bale over the previous close. Principal support was coming from Liverpool, the continent and Wall street, while the selling was scattered and not heavy, coming mostly from commission houses and New Orleans. Buying was influenced by fair weather forecast for the western belt. Shorts covered freely and the creeping advance brought a good many speculative sellers to the buying side.

$5500—Half Cash

Modern 5 room house and large lot, 1226 W. Fourth. Don't disturb tenants. Owner, L. Green, 206 Ocean Ave., Huntington Beach.

YOURS FOR MORE INCOME

Nine thousand dollars for 5 acres in bearing orange trees is not much to invest when you consider that a good house and lot would cost you as much. But, how much would you get from the house and lot except a place in which to live? Your taxes would be nearly as much, and your income nil, while with the 5 acres the income will pay the taxes, the interest on the investment, supply a better place to rear a family, and cost you but slightly more to start with. This 5 has paved highway frontage and is close to stores and school. An exchange to $3500 might be considered. No. 2538.

EVENING SALUTATION

Harsh world that lashest me each day,
 Dub me not cowardly because
I seem to find no sudden way
 To throttle you or clip your claws.
No force compels me to the wound
 Whereof my body bears the scar;
Although my feet are one the ground,
 Doubt not my eyes are on a star.
—Countee Cullen.

A GREAT STEP FORWARD

The Pan-American conference at Havana has agreed to wage war on war. The resolution is to outlaw all aggressive warfare. All disputes may be settled by compulsory arbitration. While it does not seem that the group will agree to unconditional and compulsory arbitration, yet they will reach undoubtedly, an arbitration agreement which will have a real meaning.

Chairman Charles Evans Hughes, with the unanimous support of his colleagues in the conference backed by the administration, gave to his proposal his heartiest support and spoke to it receiving the enthusiastic applause of the delegates from all of the countries. The position which the United States assumes in this matter guarantees that there shall be no more wars on the western hemisphere between nations.

The significance of this position cannot be overestimated. If this is faithfully adhered to, no longer can any of the Latin nations to our south feel that the United States is endeavoring to achieve commercial and financial advantage through exploitation with the "big stick" held ready. It is approaching a rule of right—not of might.

Only one more step is needed for the United States to insure that our people will have perfect peace with all of our southern neighbors, and that is through a declaration that there shall be no intervention by this great government in any of the internal affairs of our sister Latin republics and that no armed force shall be sent in amongst these people except such armed forces shall be sent there as a representative not of our nation alone, but officially representing the group of nations for the purpose of general peace.

Sending our armed forces out for the purpose of general slaughter of foreign peoples in their own country is war, and for a powerful country like the United States to perpetrate this on a weak and struggling people partakes more of the note of wholesale murder than it does of war. It is not our business to interfere in a family quarrel and it is no wonder that the St. Louis father, who lost his son in a fight in Nicaragua hunting for some rebel against the Nicaraguan government, feels not only grief stricken in the extreme, but resentful against the government. He spoke in his letter to one of the St. Louis papers of the fine record his son made in the war; of his willingness to sacrifice his two boys, if need be, for the defense of his country, but he could not see them lost in our interference in other people's quarrels without a protest. They did not enlist in the navy for such a purpose.

As we are further removed, in point of time, from such action, it will become more hideous to the nation. It is too bad that this also will not be settled at the Havana conference. The right of revolution inures as an inalienable right to all people everywhere. Upon this right our own glorious history is founded. We should be against tyranny as valiantly today as we were in '76. We should be against it when its operation finds other victims than ourselves. Certainly we should not play the role of the supporters of tyranny against those who would rise up to rebel.

Without this being settled, the problem with our southern neighbors is not settled. For under one pretext or another, if we claim right to interfere in the internal affairs of nations, we can enter a country and determine its administration, keep our own puppets in position or place them in power, and all the time under the guise of peace. We congratulate the conference for going as far as it has. The one problem left will eventually be solved.

A WORTHY EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

The cause of adult education in California has received a new impetus by the opening of a building in the City of San Francisco owned by the University of California, and devoted exclusively to extension work of the university.

The extension work of the University of California for adults was begun more than forty years ago in a very meager way in the city of San Francisco. The purpose of it was to extend the benefits of the university so far as possible to men and women who could not attend the university on the campus. The first actual classes held was more than thirty years ago by a number of the members of the faculty of the university going to different cities throughout the state; and the carrying to the groups who were interested the intellectual stimulus which the students at Berkeley were receiving. This seems to be the actual beginning of adult education as carried on by the university.

Since that time there has been a tremendous increase in the courses given, the numbers of students, and the numbers of instructors. Where it has been possible, the regular members of the faculty, both from Berkeley and from the University of California at Los Angeles, have been used. Many other professional and well-equipped men and women have been drafted from other colleges and universities, as well as competent men and women not connected with colleges but experts in particular subjects, many of them having heretofore been teachers.

The work was begun on a definite and permanent basis in the city of Los Angeles about 1916; and it has grown with tremendous rapidity and interest, until classes have been established in all of the larger towns of Southern California, with regular headquarters at Los Angeles in the Hill Street building and branch offices in Long Beach, Pasadena and San Diego.

It seems to be the aim of the university to offer any worth-while course in any place in Southern California where the demand is made evident by the enrollment of at least fifteen students. A place of meeting will be furnished and a competent instructor when such demand is made known.

It is a splendid movement on the part of the university to carry college and university education to [illegible] who are willing and ambitious, either for [illegible] of the course itself or this plus the [illegible] at the university. Many young men and women have been forced to forego the pleasure and profit of university work on the campus, but are desirous of finishing their courses. This extension work offers them this opportunity.

Santa Ana has had some of these courses heretofore, and the people here need only to ask for them and show that there is a real demand, when the extension division will respond enthusiastically. It is significant throughout the country that the college is being carried to the people; and there never was the tremendous interest in adult education that there is today.

A WELL ESTABLISHED PRECEDENT

The following resolution was adopted by the United States Senate on February 10th, by a vote of 56 to 26:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of the Senate that the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States in retiring from the presidential office after their second term has become, by universal concurrence, a part of our republican form of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

This is merely a reflection by the Senate of a widespread, if not universal, public opinion. The precedent was wisely set by President Washington. If the country ever needed a man for a third term, it was at the end of Washington's second term; not only because of the pre-eminent abilities of President Washington, but because of the many new problems to be met by the new republic. There were then, as now, and as there always have been, men fitted by experience, education, grasp of public affairs and confidence of the people to carry on the executive work of the nation.

There continues yet the mild but ever-present fear of too long continuance in the office of Chief Executive of any one man, however capable and efficient he may be. That fear is not defined, nor perhaps can it be, except as set out in the resolution.

The decision of Mr. Coolidge to respect the precedent established and not become a candidate again not only is a cause of additional respect for his judgment and wisdom, but it is received with approval by all except some of those who would expect to gain personally by a continuance in office of the present administration.

It is a wholesome precedent and in time will become so well established that it will be no longer a question. It is almost inconceivable that any one president is so indispensable to the welfare of the nation that this time-honored custom should be broken.

Texas Governor's Pay Not Easy To Live On

San Bernardino Sun

Gov. and Mrs. Dan Moody of Texas are living on the governor's salary of $4,000 a year. That is $75 a week.

To many a day laborer's family it may look easy enough. But it is never easy to live on less than you are accustomed to, and for the Moody family it is a step down.

The governor and his wife are not complaining, however. They are committed to a "business administration," and living on their public salary it seems to them a logical part of it, even if it does make them look stingy.

"We were terribly inexperienced housekeepers," says Mrs. Moody, telling about it in Collier's. "Living on that small salary seemed a lark. Making your first home on any sort of salary is always a big adventure; then you run into cold facts, and the battle begins."

It does seem as if the great state of Texas, which fixed its governor's salary at $4,000 51 years ago, and recently refused to raise it to $10,000 to fit the times better, might be a little more generous with its public servants.

Thrift is a fine virtue, but carried to excess, it cramps one's style and leads to meanness. Some of the more generous and ample virtues are expected in high office.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

I'M NOT ALLOWED

Bertha was past fourteen and well developed for her age. She was in second year high and the boys were very interesting—and interested. Mother took care to see that the young lady's clothes were suitable and attractive. She also took care that her hours of work and play and rest were scheduled. She had always, as a matter of course, talked over the social engagements for the week and vetoed any that broke training or otherwise interferred with the child's healthy growth.

Things were going on well when one day Bertha came in from school more animated than usual. "Mother, some of the girls have been invited to a dinner dance Friday night, at the Inn. It's really a try-out for the sorority. I'm invited. Can I go mother?"

"A dance? And dinner? Who is giving it?"

"The girls. Just the girls of the sorority."

"And I suppose it would mean a late hour? No chaperones? Young men? And the excitement of the bid for the fraternity?"

"O mother. Now don't be prim, I beg of you. Just this once. I'll be the only girl staying home. I hate to be a dud."

"No, Bertha, you can't go. I won't allow it. I'm willing to have you enjoy a dance with your friends under the usual conditions—at a friend's house under proper supervision. No dances at inns. You are not allowed to do that sort of thing. Why not find some other way of entertaining the candidates?"

Bertha argued a little, sniffed a little, and went out of the house in a darkened mood. Mother sighed. Her heart was heavy. But how could she let the child do that sort of thing? She just couldn't and wouldn't, so she busied herself with her work as well as she could for the ache in her heart and the sore spot in her tired mind.

She heard Bertha return and go into the sitting room. She heard voices. Soon Bertha called out cheerily, "Mother dear, may I serve tea in the blue cups? We're having a jamboree."

"Of course. And you'll find some cocoanut drops in the jar."

The cups clattered and the spoons tinkled as the chocolate which served as tea, was poured into the blue cups. Mother, piling the sweets on a silver plate—she was willing to kill two fatted calves if necessary—heard something what nearly knocked the dish from her hand.

"Well you see, I'm not allowed to attend such affairs. We have a perfectly fine house and everything; my people wouldn't think of allowing me to go to so public place and dance to such a late hour. It isn't done in the best families. Imagine the young girls in the private schools doing such a thing. My people wouldn't consider it for a moment. Indeed I'm not going."

At least she had the right idea, now, didn't she? Mother being a wise woman, spared neither sweets nor style that day.

More Truth Than Poetry

ESSAY ON ATOMS

When books upon chemistry, physics and such
 Were forced on my youthful attention
The atom was never regarded as much—
 In fact it seemed hardly worth mention.
Explosives, and poisons, and germs, I recall
 As subjects proved highly inviting
But an atom—a thing so exceedingly small—
 Well, it could not be classed as exciting.

Yet now we are told that when once we found out
 Exactly what atoms are made of
They'll be something that even the brave and the stout
 Will forthwith grow extremely afraid of.
They fill, as we know, but the tiniest space
 With a terrible power they're loaded
And this massive old world will be sunk without trace
 If one should by chance be exploded.

They may be but motion, they may be but waves,
 As yet we have not the least notion
Of the way that the average atom behaves
 On the earth, in the air or the ocean,
We may not be able to tear one in two
 Because of their stubborn resistence
And we may be relieved to find out, if we do
 That they never had any existence.

The atoms composing my bodily form—
 My brain and my heart and my liver—
By the way they cohere, break asunder, or swarm
 May make me a wow or a flivver,
But until all the great men of science agree
 On their power for good or for evil
The cute little things will be no more to me
 Than a mite or a worm or a weevil.

Dr. Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

BETTER THAN MONEY

A feature writer in the press the other day said that Edsel Ford, although his father was a multi-billionaire and he himself was announced as the "Ford of the Air," dolefully declared that he "wished he had gone to college."

This writer said that if Ford had gone to work the day Jesus was born and had worked steadily ever since at $3000 a day he wouldn't be worth as much money as he is now. That of course, doesn't count interest.

And yet this fortunate young man wished he had gone to college.

So there must be something better than money.

It may be hard for the average person to put himself in the place of the individual who has all the money he wants and can buy anything he likes, but if we can imagine ourselves in such a fix we might also be able to imagine ourselves as unhappy.

The trouble is that it takes two things to make happiness—the right kind of supply and the right kind of wants and enough of each.

Give a savage a million dollars or so and the difficulty with him is that he hasn't the right kind of wants to be satisfied with all this money.

Life may be compared to a house; having more resources in one's life is like having more rooms in one's house.

A man that has to stay in one room all the time is the man who has a confined environment and narrow work and is limited as to his amusements.

The advantages of love of art, of music, of literature and of the other means of culture are that they enable a man often to divert himself.

Of course he can divert himself with drink or horse play or lower forms of escape, but these forms tend to become monotonous and to limit themselves, while the forms of culture referred to above are cumulative, and the more a man enjoys them the more of them he has to enjoy.

Life, in other words, is richer and stronger with the added values of culture.

Even if the civilized man and the cultured man does not live as long as the savage, he has more of life while he is living it.

Perhaps Edsel Ford and other rich men's sons feel that in spite of all their wealth their means of escape is limited.

CURRENT COMMENT

DID you ever go by airplane from London to Paris? You spend the morning walking around the British capital dodging left-handed automobiles. Then you are hurtled over to Paris, where you spend the rest of the afternoon dodging right-handed automobiles. You are lucky if you are not run down before you adjust yourself instinctively to look and leap the right way without stopping to think. Making a machine which will move your body from one country to another while you are eating lunch is easy. Training your mind to change its automatic reactions, even in so simple a matter as dodging right or dodging left is much slower. In the race between man and machinery the machinery wins.

Is not this, in a petty personal experience, an image of the present problem of civilization? Shall we slow its machinery, or speed its thought?

"THE wise nation keeps itself thoroughly prepared, minds its own business, keeps out of foreign entanglements, never allows itself to be taken by surprise," says the chief apostle of the World That Isn't. This was the exact policy of pre-war Germany. The Germans know better now. Shall we wait to learn it in the same school they did?

IF SOME one were to say that his grandfather, when a boy a thousand years ago, got into trouble with Julius Caesar by taking Teddy Roosevelt's side in a quarrel with George Washington, you would want to know what was the matter with his brain. But when someone telegraphs from San Diego about finding a fossilized sequoia frond in a cretaceous deposit "in those early eons when the mastodon and the brontosaurus ruled supreme," you think nothing of it, in spite of the fact that the brontosaurus had been extinct for at least a million years before that sequoia fossil was formed, and the mastodon did not come into existence for at least fifteen million years afterward. There ought to be some school to teach amateur scientists that there is a difference between a hundred, thousand, a million and a bil and that all events which happe before were temporaneous.

Thoughts On Modern Lif

CAN BABBITT DO IT?

Must Babbitt remain a boob forever?

Charles A. Beard attacks this question in a recent issue of the Menorah Journal, in an article in which he goes to the heart of the problem of the future culture in America.

Mr. Beard goes after the priests of bogus culture with hammer and tongs.

Many of Babbitt's critics seem to assume that culture is a thing of precious books and pretty music alone, a thing taken on in leisure hours, a polish of mind and manners, a thing of the studio, of the library, of the gallery, and of the drawing room.

Mr. Beard counters with the contention that genuine culture is a thing that must flower out the life and work of men, not a thing apart from their work, not a thing tacked on to life after office hours.

So Mr. Beard has little hope that Babbitt will emerge from crudity into culture by taking correspondence courses in French, by buying pictures he does not understand and could not paint, by giving money to Greenwich Village geniuses, or by trying to ape the cultivated men of other lands and other times; but he thinks Babbitt must build his culture in and through his own character and in his work.

"Hope for him," says Mr. Beard, "if there is any, lies in introducing sincerity, thought, beauty, and greatness of spirit into his own work, here and now—the business of building, making, and tributing."

He wonders whether Ba can do it; here are some o questions his wondering rais

Could Babbitt imagine a ing house refusing to float a because it was not to be use a creative and constructive pose?

Could Babbitt imagine the corporations under his c bent upon discovering how current they can sell for a instead of how little?

Could Babbitt imagine his vertising swept clean of clap-

Could Babbitt imagine his leagues making over an indu city for the sake of beauty the good life instead of for earned increment and a fat account?

Could Babbitt imagine gre lective effort for some other pose than war or exploitati

He asks many other ques but these suggest the point which he lays primary emp namely, that the future Am culture must come, if it com terms of the day to day li the American people.

The mediaeval man put b into the cathedrals he built.

The modern man may not as beautiful cathedrals, but stand alongside the mediaeval without blushing if, in the he conducts his bread-and- enterprises, he builds bea communities and a beautiful ization.
